To Let Contract For Bridges And Road In County

Will Construct Two Miles Of Macadam Road In Plain-grove Township

TWO BRIDGES ARE ON PERRY HIGHWAY

Sealed Proposals Must Be In Hands Of Highway De-
ust 15

Announcement was made today by James L. Stuart, Secretary of Highways, that bids will be received at the office of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways in Harrisburg, until August 15, for the construction of two miles of roadway and two bridges along the Perry Highway.

The two miles of roadway to be built is located in Plaingrove township, between the Harlansburg-Slippery Rock road and Plaingrove, and will be of bituminous surface treated macadam surface course, 18 feet wide. Bids will also be received at the same time for the grading of approximately 50 linear feet of roadway to be 28 feet wide.

Bidding blanks, specifications and drawings may be procured from the Pennsylvania Department of Highways.

Two Bridges
Bids will be taken on the construction of the two bridges along the Perry Highway in Slippery Rock township, Lawrence County at the same time. Both are to be of reinforced concrete construction.

One bridge consists of three forty-five foot spans, having an under-clearance of 22 feet, a clear roadway of 30 feet between curbs, with one five-foot sidewalk on reinforced concrete bents to built at about station 1901 plus 59 over the Western Allegheny railroad. This is at Grant City.

The other consists of two forty-five foot spans with a clear roadway of 30 feet and five-foot sidewalk to be built over Muddy Creek at about station 1906 plus 12.

Bids will also be taken for the construction of the necessary approaches consisting of approximately 1360 linear feet of one-course reinforced concrete pavement, 20 feet wide; and approximately 1001 linear feet of bituminous surface treated macadam pavement, 20 feet wide all situated in Slippery Rock township, Lawrence County on Route 246.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Young Pa Newc for the first time saw an original iodine keg which came from Chile. The keg is in one of the downtown stores. It is made of green horsehide. The keg contains 100 pounds of crude iodine which keeps it from drying and which prevents it from flying.

Not as many people as usual were on the scene while the local fire department extinguished a small fire in a Highland avenue garage. There has been so many alarms lately in the city that haven't amounted to anything, that a fire alarm only gets a shrug of the shoulders from the keenest of fire lovers.

Pa News is told that the detour around Willow Grove bridge is none too lovely. The narrow bridge across the Mahoning river at Willow Grove, on the New Castle-Wampum road, is being repaired.

Because of its extraordinary height of nearly 13 feet, Lawrence county's contribution to the Chicago World's Fair in 1893, a grandfather's clock could not be placed in an ordinary room when removed recently to the Jameson Memorial hospital from the Shenango Valley hospital. Dr. Wayne W. Bissell solved the problem by hauling the clock into the hospital's solarium.

Pa News notices that there is a score or more of people resting daily in the West Side park. It is a cool and inviting spot and is well kept.

Have you driven your automobile over Grant street since that thoroughfare was closed?

State And Church Join In Relief Work To Aid Earthquake Sufferers

Cyclone Adds To Horror Of Quake And Fear Is Held
That Volcanoes

DEATH TOTAL
NOW SAID 3,000

By GUGLIELMO EMANUEL
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

ROME, July 25.—A stunned nation mutely accepted a government estimate earthquake death toll today of between 2,500 and 3,000 with a prediction that it may reach the appalling figure of 4,000, buried the victims and mobilized itself to bring speedy relief to its stricken areas.

South central Italy, beleaguered by approximately 10,000 injured after six furious shocks that ravaged 7,500 square miles, presented the panorama of a vast relief camp flung into existence on the heels of a tremendous battle. Emergency hospitals, tents, soldiers, campers, doctors and regiments of relief workers spread over the entire ruined sector, where occasional tremors, windstorms and potential eruptions of ancient volcanoes kept the horror-stricken inhabitants under a nerve-cracking strain.

King to Naples.

Hopeful of reducing property loss and subsequent deaths from those injured through highly concentrated and systematic relief work, King Victor Emmanuel hurried to Naples and Mefti to assume personal direction of the work while Premier Benito Mussolini remained in Rome to engineer the vast task before the country.

Pope Pius XI sent his own emissary into the earthquake area, and personally mobilized the resources and manpower of the church for relief assistance.

Reports from the leveled region continue to be conflicting and indefinite, with many isolated villages in the Avellino and Potenza provinces unheard from. The fate of the 50,000 inhabitants of the towns of Piperno, Avigliano, Filiano, Cancellaro, San Severino and Sarno remains a potent mystery.

100,000 in Fields.

One hundred thousand Italians were bivouacked in fields or temporary shelters set up amidst the ruins, their common plight fusing them into one class.

Some have taken the tragedy about them with the silence of war-time despair; others sit huddled together.

Tilden Defeats Jean Borotra In Davis Cup Play

William T. Tilden II, Wins
First Point For Ameri-

Play

ROLAND GARROS STADIUM, PARIS, July 25.—William T. Tilden II, that incomparable old master of the game of tennis, won the first point for America in the Davis cup which France won in 1927 and held tenaciously ever since.

Tilden's victory gives the United States one out of the three points necessary to regain the coveted Davis cup which France won in 1927 and held tenaciously ever since.

Strategy is Fine.
By a marvelous combination of strategy and strength, the lanky American fulfilled all the brilliant promises made when he "came back" at Wimbledon earlier in the year to recapture the British championship he lost in 1921 and struggled nine long hard years to regain.

Tilden's hopes of a blanket victory in final set went a-glimmering at the hands of Borotra's determined fighting. The Frenchman won his service again on the ninth to bring the set 5-4.

At the crucial tenth game, Tilden's service failed him and Borotra broke through to level matters at 5-all.

Borotra's sensational climb upward by taking four straight games threw a genuine scare into the American fans. It was due principally to Tilden's evident carelessness. The lanky Philadelphia out and netted continually with an "I don't care" air.

With the set at deuce, however, he tightened up and took the 11th game from Borotra's service.

Anti-Mergerists Contend Proxies Illegally Given

Suit At Youngstown Is Brought To Close Today

BUILDING LEASE
FACTS MENTIONED

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 25.—Another week of trial of the injunction suit against the merger of Youngstown Sheet & Tube company with Bethlehem Steel corporation drew to a close today with the investigating spotlight of the anti-mergerists still focused on the legality of proxies voted for the merger at the stockholders' meeting April 8.

Two blocks of Sheet & Tube stock, totaling 83,058 shares, were attacked by anti-merger attorneys yesterday. One block consisted of 71,058 shares held in trust by the Dollar Savings & Trust company, Youngstown. The other consisted of 12,000 shares held in the estates of the deceased members of the Stambaugh family.

Carl Ullman, assistant trust officer of the Dollar Savings & Trust company, testified from the witness stand that the board of directors of the bank were not given an opportunity to pass on the action of the executive committee which gave proxies on its held-in-trust Sheet & Tube stock to vote in favor of the merger.

Officers and directors of Sheet & Tube were members of the bank's executive committee.

COLLECTORS SEND LETTERS FOR FIRST AIR MAIL PICK-UP

Batch Of 500 Envelopes Await Inauguration Of New Service Here

Five hundred or more philatelists from all over the United States have forwarded letters to Postmaster E. W. Crawford asking him to place blank letters which they have enclosed in the first batch of air mail shipped from New Castle via new air mail pick-up device about to be inaugurated at the Bradford airport.

The stamp collectors are desirous of having in their collection stamps postmarked by the special cache used to mark the first air mail shipment. Postmaster Crawford said today that as yet no information regarding the new service has been received from Washington. They are awaiting authorization to send mail to the airport at the present time.

In the meantime the postmaster keeps watch over the two large boxes in which are stored the envelopes sent by collectors. When local air mail stops are inaugurated the letters will be returned to their senders. Philatelists in New York, Missouri, Ohio, Connecticut, Illinois, Michigan and other states have sent letters here.

Hospital Prepared To Care For Cases

Additional cases of typhoid fever having been reported in the Lutton street infection, Dr. Wayne W. Bissell, medical director of Jameson Memorial hospital, today announced that arrangements have been made for special care of such patients that may require hospitalization.

Specially directed diagnostic and nursing facilities are in operation for these patients, Dr. Bissell stated.

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., July 25.—You don't hear so much of prohibition lately, just drinking for the novelty of the thing has worn off, and the ones that really liked it and decided to adopt it seriously, have just settled down to steady drinking and are keeping pretty quiet about it.

Says Constables Derelict To Duty In Sullivan Case

Might Never Have Been Murder Of A. J. Nader If They Had Done

FAILED TO SERVE
WARRANTS ON MAN

"Had it not been for the inefficiency of several constables of this county, there might not have been murder done at the Commodore Lunch, and A. J. Nader would be alive today," said Squire A. H. Gilmore of Neshannock Township today. "Since June 14th, I have had an information sworn to against Eugene Sullivan charging him with fornication and bastardy but for some unknown reason the constables either could not or would not serve Sullivan with the papers."

"The case was a particularly vicious one," said Squire Gilmore. The parents of a girl under 16 years of age filed the information against Sullivan in my office and I turned it over to a constable. He claimed he could not locate Sullivan and I gave it to another constable. He returned the warrant but would volunteer no reason for his failure to serve it. The third constable had been given the papers just recently and this man had some reason for not serving the papers."

Probably No Ball
"It seems to me doubtful that Sullivan would have been able to get ball in the case and had the constables done their duty, the man would have been in jail awaiting the action of the September Grand Jury," concluded Squire Gilmore.

"The first I knew that Sullivan had been arrested for murder was when I went to the city police as a last resort," said Squire Gilmore. "When the constables either couldn't or wouldn't serve the warrant on Sullivan I determined to appeal to the city police for assistance. When I went in they informed me that Sullivan was then in jail charged with the murder of A. J. Nader."

Woman Found Slain In Detroit Hotel

(International News Service)
DETROIT, July 25.—Pittsburgh police were at work today aiding officials here in seeking for a man, said to be from Pittsburgh, wanted in connection with the death of an unidentified woman in a hotel room here. Marks on the head of the woman, who was about 35 and whose unclothed body was found in a room at the Royal hotel, led to the belief that she had been murdered with a blunt instrument. The head of a hammer was found on the floor.

The man and woman paid $2 for the room Wednesday night, police said, but did not register. A roomer at the hotel told police the woman said she and the man had just arrived in Detroit from Pittsburgh. The man left the hotel about 11 o'clock yesterday morning. The woman's body was found later in the day by the ten-year-old daughter of the hotel housekeeper.

Rumblings Heard To Keep Woman Out Of Senate
If She Is Winner In November

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON

WASHINGTON, July 25.—If Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, victor in Illinois Republican senatorial primary, achieves the distinction of being the first woman ever elected to the senate, she will face a determined fight over being seated, it was reported today on Capitol Hill.

Recent revelations of the Nye committee that Mrs. McCormick and her friends spent more than $300,000 in her successful primary last spring, brought rumblings of a fight to prevent her ever entering the senate. A half dozen senators, preparing to depart for campaigns or vacations told International News Service they had noted a widespread sentiment against seating Mrs. McCormick due to these expenditures.

Before any battle over seating her, Mrs. McCormick must win her senatorial toga in next November's election. She will face that veteran campaigner, former Senator James Hamilton Lewis. Many political prognosticators believe she will be victorious. If she is, and becomes the first woman ever elected to the senate, her troubles will only begin, if present portents mean anything.

May Be Seated
Some senators, including Senator James E. Watson (R) of Ind., majority floor leader, believes Mrs. McCormick will be seated. Other Republicans, who preferred not to be quoted, thought otherwise and expressed doubt whether the Illinois woman-wife of one senator and daughter of another—would ever wear the toga.

"I can't believe the senate will deny Mrs. McCormick a seat solely because she spent money out of her own pocket," said Squire Gilmore.

Glenn H. Curtiss Is Buried Today

Quiet And Simplicity Marks
Burial This Afternoon
Of Aviation Pioneer

HUNDREDS PAY
FINAL RESPECTS

By JAMES L. KILGALLAN
Correspondent

HAMMONDSVILLE, N. Y., July 25.—Glenn H. Curtiss, one of America's renowned aviation pioneers, who died suddenly Wednesday, will be buried late this afternoon with quiet simplicity. He will be laid to rest at Pleasant Valley cemetery, a stone's throw from where, years ago during the horse drawn era, he made spectacular flights in strange looking contraptions of his own creation that were fore-runners of the airplane of today.

His friends and neighbors of Hammondsport, his birthplace, paid their final respects today.

Many Pay Respects
They came solemnly to the Curtiss residence, located on a hill on the edge of town, in endless groups of twos and threes. Everybody in Hammondsport, which has become known as "the cradle of aviation," because of Curtiss' early experimental and developmental work, knew him intimately. He was "G. H." to them, a friend and good neighbor, as well as a great man.

Curtiss was an inventor, pilot, manufacturer and industrial leader who did things in a big and daring way. His name carried prestige that put him in a class with such eminent American industrial pioneers as Ford, Edison, Schwab, Eastman and Orville Wright. No man surpassed Curtiss in bold conception and the putting through of ideas that to many seemed fantastic. His contribution to aviation was indispensable to the country during and after the World War.

Expect To Overflow Cathedral For Siple Meeting Sunday Night

Erie Boy Scout Who Served With Admiral Byrd At The South Pole To Make His Third Public Appearance, Since Returning, Here. County Scouts Invited To Attend.

Perhaps no more famous a visitor has ever been invited to speak within the confines of the city than Scout Paul Siple who comes from Erie on Sunday to recount his never-to-be-forgotten experiences of Commander Byrd's South Pole expedition, before an audience in the Cathedral.

Paul is scheduled to make the principal address at an evening service being held under the auspices of the Croton Methodist Episcopal church of which the Rev. Clifford S. Joshua, is pastor. The program will open at 8 o'clock.

Fortunate indeed are New Castle residents and inhabitants of the surrounding districts in having one of the most prominent members of the exploring party come here to tell about the trip so soon after his return from the barren ice wastes, where the party passed two years making a scientific research.

Siple, young though he was, proved one of Byrd's most able helpers and performed every task assigned him in a way that brought forth commendation time after time from the commander himself. In many of his appearances since returning to the States Byrd has paid high tribute to the youth for the stellar role he played.

The past few years has seen scores of distinguished men speak from the Cathedral stage, but none perhaps ever had a more vivid story to tell than the Erie Scout who will be the city's guest of honor.

Expectations are that the spacious auditorium will be filled to capacity for the service, it is announced, and the custom of first there, first served will be observed. No seats will be reserved. Bessmer, Ellwood City, Wampum, Volant and other communities are expected to send delegations.

Siple's party, in which will be Mayor J. C. Williams of Erie; Paul's parents and relatives, and a delegation of other friends will motor here from Erie, leaving the lake city about 2 p. m. At New Wilmington the scout's party will be met by a caravan of New Castle cars which will escort the guests the remainder of the distance to this city.

City To Widen North Street

Ordinance Is Passed And Owners Must Remove "Obstructions" Before August 15

Council convened formally at the city building today and adopted an ordinance which provides for the paving of the unpaved portion and paving of the old cartway of North St. between East street and Neshannock avenue. Mayor Gillespie and Councilman Burns voted against the ordinance. It is proposed to widen the thoroughfare two and one half feet on each side. According to an opinion delivered by Solicitor White to council today the city can widen the street and owners who have property now extending into the street are "trespassers."

White opined that notices instructing the property-owners, about six in number, to remove the "obstructions" before August 15, when the work will start by Woods and Golder. He said that if the "obstructions" (Continued On Page Two)

(International News Service)

SPANGLER, Pa., July 25.—Wracked with pain, his body scratched and torn by stumbling through the mountains in a wild flight to escape capture, Perry Langham, 54, accused killer of his two small children, tossed and muttered incoherently on a cot in Spangler hospital here today.

Langham was near death, his throat bearing an ugly, self-inflicted knife wound.

Slashed His Throat.
He is believed to have slashed his throat in a suicide attempt when the realization came that capture was inevitable.

State police and Cambria county detectives found the man hiding beneath a stack of hay in a barn near Arcadia last night.

His capture climaxed a man hunt through Cambria and Indiana counties that got under way early Wednesday when Langham's home was dynamited at Emigh Run, bringing instant death to two of his children and serious injuries to his wife, La Mura.

The two children who met death in the terrific explosion were Arthur and LaRue Langham, 14 months and six years, respectively. Two other tots, asleep in the home when the blast let go, miraculously escaped injury.

Clutches Will.
Tightly clutched in Langham's hands when he was dragged from beneath the pile of hay were a brief, illiterate will and a remorseful poetic tribute to his wife.

The tribute, believed to have been a final gesture toward reconciliation with Mrs. Langham, from whom he had been estranged, was scrawled in a nervous hand. It read:
"La Mura, a memory for you to mind. The money of your laughing eyes just keep the sun a-shining. To every cloud that across the skies you are the silver lining." The other crumpled sheet of paper was Langham's will. It was addressed (Continued On Page Five)

KANSAS CITY, July 25.—Maintaining their innocence to the last and showing no outward signs of emotion, three men paid with their lives on the gallows here today for the slaying of James H. (Happy) Smith, Kansas City policeman.

The three men, Tony (Lollypop) Mangiaracina, 29; John Messina, 29, and Carl Nasella, 22, were hanged simultaneously, dropping through the same gallows trap.

Attempt Made To Enter Silverman's

J. Silverman Of 213 East Wallace Avenue, Discovers Fact Last Night

When J. Silverman arrived at his home, 213 East Wallace avenue, about eight o'clock last night from his store, he found evidence of an attempt to enter his home and immediately called the police.

Officer Dukes was called and found that some unknown person or persons had entered the cellar of the home through a broken cellar window and on trying to get into the upper part of the house found the way barred by a locked door leading from the basement into the upper part of the house.

An effort was evidently started to cut out around the lock, but the thieves were evidently frightened away before this was accomplished, as they did not get into the upper part of the house and nothing is missing from the place.

Reeves Would Like Euclid Avenue Paved

Colleagues In Council However Do Not Take Any Action After His Remarks

Unless there is a big change in heart the city of New Castle will not pave Euclid avenue this year as no action was taken today when Councilman Clayton Reeves, during a session of council at city hall, said that "Euclid Avenue should be paved after North street is improved."

Councilman Trese said that the school fronts on Euclid Avenue for a distance of approximately 600 feet.

Under the law the school board does not have to pay for the improvement unless they agree with council to do so.

The school building is one of the finest in the state and every winter and spring the avenue it is reported, is decidedly bad for travel.

You're the JUDGE

THE FOLLOWING case happened before the Volstead act, in the days when states might be dry under a local option law.

The owner of a hotel in a dry state went across the line into a wet state and bought quite a bill of liquor.

The liquor dealer knew that the hotel keeper intended to take it into his hotel in the dry state and to sell it to his guests contrary to the laws of his state. But the dealer, nevertheless, sold him the liquor.

Came time to pay for the liquor. But the hotel keeper was exceedingly slow about it. At last the patience of the liquor dealer was exhausted, and he called on the hotel man in his own hotel and there personally demanded payment. But the hotel keeper turned him flatly down. So the liquor dealer sued.

At the trial the hotel man argued that he didn't owe the money because it was illegal for the liquor dealer to sell him the goods.

How would you decide this? Make up your mind before you read the answer. Decision will be found on Classified Page.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

fare has been torn up? Pa Newc did it last evening. And folks, it wasn't a bit rougher than it was before! (But it was pretty rough before, if you remember.)

Why don't some local chap stage a marathon sitting contest on top of the old Rosena furnace. The furnace is being put to no other use and would be much better than a tree or a flagpole, for sitting.

The fifty girls who were sent to the East Brook Y. W. C. A. camp for a week's recreation, by local individuals and women's organizations, are having the times of their lives. This will be a never-to-be-forgotten week for them.

Although it is many miles distant it is possible for persons motoring on a high hill of the new concrete road in the vicinity of Volant to see the high-powered lights of a North Hill driving course.

Corn in the vicinity of Volant is already in tassel. Some of the best fields have been seen by Pa Newc in that vicinity. The rain a few days ago helped farm crops and no farmer would object to another down-pour.

Pa Newc believes that the two city policemen, Lynch and Longstreth deserve credit for the manner in which they took over traffic direction when flames destroyed a home along the Ellwood City road. They kept cars moving and out of the fire zone.

Some youngsters are energetic. Early this morning Pa Newc noticed a small chap riding a miniature bicycle downtown with a small sack of flour on the back of the cycle.

Pa Newc observed a dilapidated looking touring car of the vintage of 1913 or thereabouts, proceeding along Wallace avenue last evening. It's rheumatic motor could be heard for ten blocks, but it was getting there.

Although the rains of this week were of inestimable value to the farmers, more is needed within the next few days, if crops are to be benefited to any appreciable extent.

Pa Newc observed a caravan of the new baby flippers being manufactured in Butler, proceeding along the street the other day. Sandwiched in between regular-sized autos, they looked rather incongruous.

Pa Newc notes that the weeds have been cut along the sidewalks of some of the city streets, in a rather haphazard manner. There are plenty of weeds growing on some of the land owned by the city.

Once again, the North Mercer street hill has been put in good condition.

A bud should blossom. A bird should sing. And it is part of Nature's plan that a kind heart should unfold in good-will toward all.

dition, and motorists can come down over the hill without fear of having their teeth jarred loose. The upper half of the hill was covered with crushed limestone, while the lower half was scraped and rolled smooth.

The Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, is still preparing to furnish men for those who want their weeds cut, Secretary Orville Potter states. A call to 5084 will bring a response for those who desire this service.

It was only a fire that concerned a small coupe on the second floor of a huge garage on North Mill street. And when the fire fighting apparatus arrived it was evident that the firemen had prepared for the worst. Truck after truck of apparatus came to combat the apparent conflagration. It was a great sight to behold.

Filling of the roadbed and repairing of gutters on Division street will be completed today. Work on the project started several days ago.

Have you seen the construction work done on the new Epworth M. E. church, at Butler avenue and Washington street? Undoubtedly, the new church will be one of the most beautiful ever built in New Castle. Cornerstone will be laid next Sunday.

A little rain now and then would encourage the crops of Lawrence County.

Here is another record to mark down, Clarence Lehigh, of Hillcrest avenue, dressed and cooked one hundred chickens one evening several years ago at a big get-together at the Y. M. C. A. camp. And were they good! Ask anyone who was there that night.

There's a silver lining to every cloud, they say, and quite often a bit of dampness. Better be looking for the bit of brightness and forget about the rain, because apparently "it ain't going to rain any more, just cause there's a few clouds hanging around."

pocket," observed Watson. "To me, the real issue will be: 'How did she spend it?'"

Watson was asked whether he had heard rumors of a probable fight against seating Mrs. McCormick. "Yes I have," said the leader. "But I can't believe senators would make a decision on so important a matter before hearing the evidence or the report of the Nye committee."

Conditions May Change

Another Republican leader said: "There has been substantial talk against seating Mrs. McCormick. But the contest is a year away. Conditions and sentiment may change before a vote is reached on seating her."

Senator George W. Norris (R) of Neb., who led the fight to unseat Senator-elect Frank L. Smith (R) of Ill., and Senator-elect William S. Vare (R) of Pa., in the last congress, declared he had made no decision about the case.

"I expect to be one of judges if a case is brought against Mrs. McCormick," said Norris, "so I shall not speak until the case is brought into court, if it is, and all the evidence is presented."

The fight against Mrs. McCormick, if made, will be based solely on her expenditures. She told frankly of spending $252,000 in her primary from her own funds. Her friends spent some $57,000 more; the total cost of her primary exceeded $300,000.

In the original case against Senator Truman H. Newberry (R) of Mich., the senate ruled overwhelmingly that expenditure of $195,000 in a primary could not be tolerated. Newberry was seated by a close vote, but in the succeeding election, so many of his supporters were defeated that Newberry resigned from the senate, rather than face another vote on expelling him.

In the case against Smith, evidence showed that a quarter of a million dollars was spent in his behalf with $125,000 of it coming from Samuel Insull, Public Utility magnate. Smith personally spent but a small sum. The senate decreed the amount was too much and the Insull contribution reprehensible and Smith was denied a seat.

Vare spent only a small sum too but his organization was credited with spending $700,000 in the primary in behalf of the entire Vare ticket. Vare was credited with the whole sum and denied a seat.

With the Newberry, Smith and Vare cases as precedents, it may be Mrs. McCormick will win the distinction of being the first woman ever elected to the senate only to be denied the fruits of her victory.

White recited that "there was probably a view years ago, a settlement was made and payments made. He said he had found a minute to this effect but would investigate further."

The mayor said he is opposed to widening the thoroughfare and Burns occupied a similar position, fearing damages because he said he could find no record of any settlements.

Burns also thought a two foot south sidewalk would be dangerous. Council accepted the opinion of solicitor White then voted on the bill to pave and repave and it was adopted by a three to two vote.

Councilman Reeves announced that in view of the proposed widening the Pennsylvania Power company would place their cables in a conduit to avoid future excavation.

STAR LORE TO WESTWARD OVER CHATTANOOGA

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter.

The writer recently stood on the summit of Lookout mountain overlooking the city of Chattanooga, Tenn., 1,700 feet below, while off in the opposite direction to westward the afternoon sun shined through open spaces between clouds, produced those fan-shaped sunbeams frequently described as the "sun drawing water." The accurate explanation that the sunshine penetrating through cloud rifts to earth, was being reflected from the infinite numbers of tiny dust particles floating in the atmosphere. The air is never entirely free from dust particles, even when clearest after it has been washed by rain. Thus the presence of dust in upper air serves to contribute to nature's charm.

EXPECT TO OVERFLOW CATHEDRAL FOR SIPLE MEETING SUNDAY NIGHT

reaching the city, the Siple party will go to The Castleton and remain there until the opening hour at the Cathedral.

All of New Castle's congregations and various other organizations have been extended invitations to attend as well as the Boy Scout troops of the county at large. Scout Executive Herbert G. Horton has sent out formal invitations to every scoutmaster. Whether or not they will take any part in the service is not known.

Of considerable significance is Siple's coming to the Boy Scouts inasmuch as he represented that organization on Byrd's expedition. Out of hundreds of applicants for the trip he was chosen as the youth to make the trip.

Hardly has Siple had one moment to himself since reaching Erie. A tumultuous and vociferous welcome was extended officially by the city as he arrived in the city from New York, where with other members of the South Pole party he shared in the Broadway reception tendered Commander Byrd.

Only twice has he spoken in public before since returning home. New Castle's appearance being his third. Despite his youth it is said that he is an able speaker, being a student on the Allegheny college campus prior to being chosen to go with Byrd.

After filling several public engagements it is said that Siple will make plans to re-enter Allegheny to finish his education before launching out into the scouting world. He plans to become a scout executive.

Rev. Joshua's acquaintance with Paul and his family was the fortunate factor in bringing him here. For years while Rev. Joshua served an Erie Methodist church Paul and his family were members of the congregation, and so after Paul had returned and the official greeting of Erie had been extended the local minister went there an asked him to speak in New Castle. He immediately accepted with the result that he will appear on Sunday.

There will be no admission charge to the service but a silver offering will be taken up to help defray the expenses of the evening.

STATE AND CHURCH JOIN IN RELIEF WORK TO AID SUFFERERS

bewailing and cursing their misfortune.

The latest checkup on the casualties and property damage wreaked by the greatest catastrophe in Italy since the Messina obliteration 22 years ago leaves no doubt that the province of Avellino this time was the greatest sufferer. Official reports place the number of dead there at 1,400 and the number of injured at 2,000 with 3,000 home wrecked.

In the province of Potenza, the farthest south in the earthquake zone, 232 dead were officially counted and more expected.

The toll in the province of Foggia was placed at 120 dead and 1,557 injured.

Villanova Leads.

Villanova led all cities in the number of killed with 400. The dead at Meft, epicenter of the temblors, have not been totaled but hundreds of bodies have been recovered. Agelonia Lacedonia and Treviso reported from 200 to about 400 dead each, and hundreds of injured.

Latest reports indicated that at Treviso, where the death toll at first was considered insignificant, 270 persons were killed by the earthquake. Aquilonia, with fatalities previously listed at 300, now reports 400 dead with a possible later total of 500.

Authorities estimated that 60,000 persons were made homeless in Avellino province alone.

While additional deaths are anticipated when the casualties in isolated peasant hamlets have been checked up, it was generally believed that in towns and cities the search for the dead was nearly ended.

ROME, July 25.—A roaring cyclone whirled across the Piave section today devastating the region.

First reports listed 27 persons killed and more than 100 injured by the terrific wind cloud, which tore up several villages, badly damaging electric plants, railroads, bridges and stations. Susegana reported five killed by the cyclone. Barco five, Nervesa five, Volpago four and Selva three and five in various other villages of the region visited by the storm.

A relief train with supplies and medical aid was dispatched from Treviso.

Three days before the stockholders' meeting April 8, when the merger was voted.

Shortly after the lease was consummated, it was revealed, proxies for Sheet & Tube stock held by the Stambaugh estate were given to the pro-mergerists.

To Retain Quarters

Hall admitted that he had visited Cyrus S. Eaton, anti-merger chief, but he denied he had tried to induce Eaton to lease space in the Stambaugh building for the Republic Steel corporation. He also denied that at a meeting with Eugene G. Grace, president of Bethlehem, that the subject of the lease was mentioned.

Elton Hoyt, II, of Cleveland, later testified, however, that the lease was mentioned at a meeting between Grace and John Stambaugh II, Grace assured Stambaugh Hoyt testified, that if Bethlehem took over Sheet & Tube they would retain quarters in the Stambaugh building.

CORNMAN-BRENNEMAN WEDDING NUPTIALS

A beautiful wedding was performed Wednesday when Miss Mildred Cornman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cornman of Volant became the bride of Kenneth Brenneman, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Brenneman of Garfield avenue, this city, at 6:30 o'clock in the bride's home.

The Rev. C. M. Rhorbaugh, pastor of the Rich Hill Presbyterian church officiated with the ring ceremony in the presence of a group of relatives and friends. To strains of the Lohengrin wedding chorus, played by Mrs. Rhorbaugh, the bride party descended the stairs to the parlor where they stood before an embankment of ferns and palms.

The bride was lovely in a gown of ivory satin trimmed with point d'esprit lace made with fitted bodice and long flowing skirt drooping to the floor in the back. She wore a corsage of tea roses and valley lilies. Miss Frances Turner who was chosen as maid of honor, was attired in a frock of pink flowered chiffon made on the princess lines and wore a corsage of apricot tea roses. Frank Brenneman, brother of the groom, served as best man.

Following the reading of the nuptials, a wedding dinner was served in the dining room at a table beautifully decorated in keeping with the wedding appointments. The bride bouquets were placed at either end of the table, with tall tapers in crystal holders surrounded the wedding cake which graced the table center.

The bride has been chief operator at the Volant Telephone office for the past two years, while the groom is affiliated with the Jordan State Game Farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Brenneman left later in the day for an extended motor trip to West Virginia where they will visit the Shenandoah Caves. After August 1, they will be at home to their friends in Volant.

Out of town guests were present from White Plains, N. Y., Pittsburgh and Orlando, Florida.

Camp Has Party
The boys at Belvedere Camp, near Neshannock Falls, entertained royally Thursday evening when they had as guests Mr. and Mrs. Remley of New Castle, Mrs. Hoyland and daughter Ruth, of Detroit, and Miss McNeill of Ellwood City.

A huge bonfire was built and the members of the camp and their visitors made this the center of attraction while they roasted marshmallows, steamed wieners and ate "hot dogs".

At a late hour the guests returned to their homes, thanking the boys for a lively and interesting evening.

Rachel Rebekahs
The Rachel Rebekah Degree team and their families enjoyed a picnic dinner at the home of William Robinson on the Youngstown road Thursday, with 37 present.

Following the menu, a period of cards and other informal pastimes furnished entertainment. Sara McClintock was winner of the prize. Another picnic dinner will be held in the near future at the home of Sara McClintock.

Class Reunion
A meeting of the New Castle girls of grade six of the Central school, class of 1903 will meet with Mrs. Edith McClintock at the home of Mrs. Edith McClintock, 728 S. 8th street, Monday evening, July 28 at 8 o'clock. D. S. T. Plans will be completed at this time for the reunion which will be an event of July 31 at Cascade Park.

"LADIES LOVE BRUTES"

With George Bancroft at the Capitol Monday For Three Days

"Divorcee" with Norma Shearer Shown Today and Tomorrow

George Bancroft, whose burly manners and lusty laughter have won him millions of friends among moviegoers, will be seen and heard in his latest Paramount release, "Ladies Love Brutes" at The Capitol Theatre beginning on Monday next week.

The story is based on a play, "Paradise My Love" by Zoe Atkins, author of "Sarah and Son". Bancroft is seen as the structural steel worker who becomes a successful business man and tries to "crash the 400," with surprising results.

This romance leads him into new difficulties. The climax is a surprising one and very thrilling.

Mary Astor, Fredric March, Stanley Fields, Ben Hendricks, Jr., David Durand and Freddie Burke Frederick support the star. And it is without doubt the greatest picture of Mr. Bancroft's entire career. The Capitol soon will present the picture that was photographed at the bottom of the world with "Byrd at South Pole".

Local Talent Will Present Musicales

Music lovers, who are also members of the Field Club, will have another opportunity Sunday evening to listen to the best in music, when for the third time this season, a musical program has been presented for the day evening entertainment of the members and their friends.

Sam Lewis, who is well known for his ability to handle programs of this kind, is in charge this week and something unusual is promised.

Mr. Lewis has arranged a program by a quartet of local artists, who are well known as choir singers throughout the city, as well as soloists, with A. W. Taylor at the organ.

Sam Lewis, as well as directing, will take part in the program. Mr. Lewis is one of the choir members of the First Methodist church; Mrs. Helen Urmon Felch, an alto singer, whose voice thrills her hearers from the moment she starts to sing, is also a member of the First Methodist choir; Miss Helen Allen, who takes the soprano parts in the Highland United Presbyterian choir, in addition to entertaining with her charming voice, also uses her talent to instruct the children of the Highland public school; A. W. Taylor, who will preside at the console, needs no introduction to the New Castle audience; he also plays in the First Methodist church.

Program

HONORS HOUSE GUESTS WITH PICNIC DINNER

Honoring her house guests, Mr. and Mrs. John D. White and daughter Sue and Miss Bertha Chestnut all of Cambridge, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. H. P. of Pittsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. of Bedford street entertained at a basket picnic held at the home of Garth Kennedy on the Butler road. A delicious menu was served at 6:30 o'clock on tables spread under the trees, prettily decorated with garden flowers. Covers were laid for 30.

The after dinner hours were well away with games of various sorts and out-door sports.

B. Y. P. U. OUTING AT CASCADE ENJOYED

A watermelon and swimming party featured the B. Y. P. U. outing of the First Baptist church Thursday evening when they gathered at Cascade Park, marking of their monthly social events, with 25 in attendance.

The evenings program opened with a swim in the park pool, later followed by a watermelon feast served in the grove. The remaining hours were pleasantly spent with the various park amusements with all returning to their homes at a late hour voting the evening a large success.

Wiener Roast
Members of the Luther League of the Zion Lutheran church held themselves Thursday evening to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Klas Nelson on Neshannock boulevard, and in the grove back of their house and on the creek, enjoyed an evening of fun, with a large bon fire as the center of attraction.

Each, with a long pronged stick, roasted their own marshmallows and wieners, and when darkness had settled the fire glowed upon the happy faces about as they indulged in group singing.

Thurston Nelson, Dorothy Nelson and Ruth Bergland were the efficient committee in charge of arrangements. Mr. and Mrs. Bergland of Baltimore, Md., were out of town guests.

G. W. C. Club Picnic
Members of the G. W. C. Club enjoyed a basket dinner at Cascade Park Thursday evening. The menu included a variety of tasty dishes being served in the grove at noon. Spring flowers decorated the tables, where places were laid for a large number of guests. The park pleasures were later enjoyed.

Special visitors of the occasion included Mrs. Chester Thorpe and children Ruth and Billy, Miss Helen Allen, Miss Ellen White, Nesbit Bleakley, Charles Allen and Billy Campbell.

In two weeks there will be another picnic dinner held at the park for the club members and their families.

Serve Breakfast at Park
The Women's Missionary society of the Bethany Lutheran church enjoyed an early breakfast this morning in the grove at Cascade Park.

Places were laid for twenty four and the bacon and eggs with all the trimmings certainly tasted good at the early hour and in the open. Following breakfast the beauties and amusements of the park were enjoyed.

Missionary Tea
The home of Mrs. D. C. Lindley, Hazelcroft avenue, was the setting for a missionary tea Thursday afternoon, given by the Women's Auxiliary of the Trinity Episcopal church.

Elizabeth Rice delighted the ladies with an interesting and informal talk on her trip to the Holy Land.

Concluding the afternoon light refreshments were served. Mrs. Thomas Liggett of Jenkintown and Mrs. Victor Jevon of Evanston, Ill., were out of town guests.

Have Wiener Roast.
On Thursday night the members of the Friendship Circle of the International Institute for Foreign Women on Pennsylvania avenue had a wiener roast. Following the wiener roast plans for a picnic at Cascade park next Thursday night were completed.

Engagement News
Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Flecia Fabian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fabian of Chewton to Frederick Scala, son of Mrs. Anna Scala of Chewton. The wedding will be an event of early fall.

Square Circle
Tonight at 7:30 the Square Circle of the International Institute for Foreign Women Pennsylvania avenue will hold a special meeting, according to Miss Antoinette Barabanti, head of this organization. All members are asked to be present for this session.

Stoner Reunion
The second annual reunion of the descendants of Charles and Sarah Stoner will be held on Saturday, August 2, at the home of J. Earl Brooks of the Butler road.

Short Circuit In Auto Causes Fire

Firemen were called to the McCoy Motor Co. on North Mill street at 4:50 Thursday afternoon by an alarm from box 114, where gasoline had ignited in the motor of a car. The blaze was extinguished with acid and soda after damage of approximately $15 had been done.

An employee was cleaning a car belonging to the company, using a spray gun, and he believed to have gotten the nozzle across the wiring of the car, causing a short circuit and igniting the gasoline.

Russell To Tell Chicago Probers Of Lingle Slaying

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, July 25.—Police Capt. William Russell went before the grand jury today to tell what he knows of the murder of his close friend, Alfred J. Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter, which ended Russell's rule as police commissioner.

Capt. John Stege, who was demoted from the post of chief of detectives when Russell went out, is to testify later in the day.

Corporation Counsel Samuel A. Eitelson, political sponsor of the two police officers, was called by the jury today, but had a previous engagement and will testify Monday.

Corry Pastor Is Threatened

Underworld Warns Corry Minister That Harm May Befall Him If He Doesn't Leave

HAS BEEN ACTIVE IN LIQUOR RAIDS

(International News Service)
CORRY, Pa., July 25.—Underworld threats to "take him for a ride" because of his activities in combating vice conditions have only served to strengthen the resolve of the Rev. Frank A. Wimer, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church here, to make Corry 100 per cent clean. He said today:

"If they think they can bluff me, they're mistaken. And we have not finished. There is more coming to them."

Threats to take him on a death ride and to destroy church property were contained in an anonymous letter received by the clergyman. He was given ten days to get out of the city. Wimer lays the threats to his activities in connection with recent Federal prohibition raids in which twenty establishments were visited and about thirty persons arrested and later held for court. Refreshments for the raiders, consisting of state police and Federal agents from Pittsburgh were served before the raid at a spot some distance from the city by members of Wimer's congregation. Wimer pointed out today that five months have elapsed since the city administration promised to clean up the community. He charged that officials had ignored demands by church people to enforce the law.

Rev. J. Ralph Neale Receives Degree At Muskingum College

Preparations Made For Annual Missionary Conference In New Wilmington

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., July 25.—Rev. J. Ralph Neale, pastor of the United Presbyterian church of New Wilmington for the past twelve years has returned from Muskingum college at New Concord, O., where he has been honored by having the degree of D. D. conferred upon him by that institution.

J. C. Ramsey and William Evans have a crew of men working on the buildings and tents which are used in connection with the annual missionary conference to be held here August 8 to 15.

Guarantors of New Wilmington's annual Chautauqua held a meeting in the club rooms of the Volunteer Firemen. Plans were laid for the ticket campaign and other necessary business pertaining to the opening of Chautauqua on August 2.

PERSONAL ITEMS.

Frank Fisher, a former resident of New Wilmington, called on friends here today.

Miss Grace Lawrence is spending her vacation at the home of parents in Red Oak, Iowa.

Miss Elizabeth McKean, of Pittsburgh, is a visitor at the home of her nephew, Wallace McKean, on High street.

Misses Marion Ferver, Bella Lakey and Margaret Lakey have gone to Lakewood Beach where they will remain for a week.

Attorney C. H. Young, of New Castle, was a business caller here on Thursday.

Miss Kathryn McClure is visiting with friends in Bellevue for a few days.

Mrs. L. B. Mitchell and Mrs. Lettie Ostrander have gone to Columbus, O., where they will make their home with Mrs. Mitchell's son, Fred, at that place.

C. B. Morrow of Wampum, was a recent business visitor in New Wilmington.

Dr. John W. Mitchell has gone to Pottstown, Pa., where he will remain for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. V. V. Johnston and daughter are guests at the home of Mrs. J. G. Patterson on Vine street.

INJURED WHILE CHANGING TIRE
Harold Miller, employed by J. J. Francis, had the misfortune to have his right hand badly cut and bruised today. He was changing a tire on one of Mr. Francis' automobiles when the inner tube blew out forcing his right hand between the rim and the wheel. He was taken to Dr. Barr's office where his injuries were treated. No broken bones could be found.

Foul checks will now be an extra stub on fight tickets. The question now is will the foul checks check the fouls?

Troop Will Drill At Armory Tonight

Final Drill Will Be Held Preparatory To Summer Encampment This Evening

With Major Samuel B. Wolfe of Lewisburg, squadron commander in attendance, the final drill of Troop F, 103rd Cavalry, will be held in the Armory on Neshannock avenue this evening.

Members of the troop are requested by Commander Harvey Bintrim to be present in full summer attire at 7 o'clock. Quarterly pay checks will be given the men, and informal review will be issued by Major Wolfe.

It is expected that camp equipment will be issued to the men at this time, and final plans for the departure of the troop for Mt. Gretna next week will also be discussed.

Harmony Company Is Sued For Auto

Suit in the sum of $815 together with expenses of hiring a car was instituted against the Pittsburgh Harmony, Butler and New Castle railway company by Robert M. Tuttle of Beaver Falls in the Butler county court.

Tuttle is suing to recover the cost of his automobile which was demolished when struck by an interurban car at the intersection on the Zelenople-Evans City road in Harmony borough.

According to Tuttle's statement, he was coming toward Evans City and had approached the crossing with caution when the interurban car, which he alleges was driven in a reckless manner, crossed the main highway at the Harmony station and struck his car.

BOY'S NOVEL PUBLISHED

Tiring of nothing to do during his vacation 11-year-old Maurice Wiltshire of London wrote a novel, and asked his grandfather to read it.

Grandfather obediently complied—and promptly sent it to a publishing firm who equally promptly accepted it. It promises to be a success. "What an awful fuss about nothing," Maurice said when congratulated on his success, "I only wrote it for fun."

Legion Of Honor To Meet Tonight

Peter's Adventures

OLD FRIEND OR STRANGER?

Peter knew his insects. Nothing made a little citizen of the meadow happier than to have a Human ask its pardon. The newcover with the tiny, shiny eyes, and the pleasant voice nodded.

"Everybody makes mistakes," it chirped. "Of course I'll forgive you for calling my people unfriendly. I know you and so I know you didn't mean a word you said."

"What do you mean you know me?" demanded Peter, who was sure he had never seen the stranger before. "How can you?"

"Because you're an old acquaintance of mine," announced the insect, tiny eyes twinkling. "It's quite a blow to my vanity to think that you don't recognize me. Look again boy. You've seen me or my brothers and my sisters hundreds of times, and never tried to harm us. That's why I'm talking to you. I'd never waste time on an enemy of my people. Many's the day I have watched you going out of your way to avoid stepping on one of my relatives. Once you saw me in your path and stubbed your toe in an effort to avoid crushing me beneath your foot. I've never heard a word against you, either. There are cruel boys—boys who stamp on new laid eggs, or steal helpless babies or pull down houses, just for fun, or tear wings off from little bodies. You don't do such wicked things therefore all the insects like you. Oh, I know you, all right, my lad. Look closer and see if you don't know who I am!"

The speaker came closer. "My, what a fat tummy!" thought Peter, and then noticed that the stranger's body seemed to be divided in the middle. Where had he seen such an insect before. Peter scratched his head in bewilderment.

Next: "No One Else But Ant."

MY WHAT A FAT TUMMY! I THOUGHT PETER

Motor Cars In State Increased Last Year Says R. W. Bolsinger

Motor Club President Finds Vehicles Higher By 91,076

The state of Pennsylvania had 91,076 more motor vehicles on January 1, 1930, than it had at the beginning of 1929, according to R. W. Bolsinger, president of the New Castle Motor Club which is affiliated with the American Automobile Association.

Mr. Bolsinger said that New York led the nation with an increase of 179,317 motor vehicles, while California was second with a gain of 174,451. Michigan was third with 145,881, and was trailed by Texas with 133,810 and Ohio with 116,915.

"For the nation as a whole," he continued, "the number of motor vehicles increased 2,068,319 during 1929 and served to add to the congestion on the highways."

"One of the greatest problems of road building agencies has been to keep pace with the need for highways, and at the same time take care of maintenance of existing roads."

The A. A. A. club executive said despite an apparent slump in many lines of construction, it is more encouraging to know that road-building has been speeded up.

"This has been largely due," he said, "to the constructive leadership of President Hoover in urging that all public works be pushed to the limit. The various states have been quick in responding to this appeal and as a result the construction of highways is proceeding in an orderly manner."

The Parent Problem

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Punishment Of Youths A Problem

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.

Writes a mother from Minneapolis: "Your suggestions to parents are very interesting and likewise helpful. Here is a clipping from The Star, which I should like to have you comment on because it has given the opinion of a leading nerve specialist on a shocking occurrence in our city. Dr. Jones, however, never had any children."

According to her clipping, Dr. A. W. Jones, as editor of the medical publication Journal-Lancet, writes:

"The next interesting but unpleasant feature which has been heralded throughout the northwest is the vandalism which has been current in Minneapolis recently and which has involved boys from 6 to 18 years of age. Among other depredations they practically destroyed the contents of a house which belonged to a former Minneapolis physician, at least they succeeded in breaking everything that was breakable, and doing other damage to the amount of at least $25,000 and probably more."

"Some of the same gang held up a pie wagon which was loaded with pies and, after eating all they could, they took the rest around to the Quaker church and plastered the walls and floor with the remaining pies, and tore the cushions and seats into bits. They were promptly apprehended and as promptly escaped, for there were no facilities for keeping them at the Red Wing school or the Glen Lake school."

"The judge sentenced them to six months' confinement when they should have had a term of 60 years imposed on them, and they should have been forced to live with their parents all that time. Out of the entire number of boys, only one boy's father stood up for law enforcement; the rest were evidently not interested. They had apparently brought up their children in the same way, without surveillance, without correction for their misdeeds, and perhaps with no effort on their part to see that the children were regular in their school attendance."

"How any parent can look a man in the face and admit the lack of discipline in his own family in children of six years of age and a little older is more than the editor can understand, but it shows us something of the tendency in the world. If the parents knew how they could very early begin training of

I believe the sentence by the court was long enough, perhaps too long. The chances are these lads had done other things earlier and were let off without penalty. I wish first slight offenses of adolescents deliberately violating law were dealt with by a few days in jail, and crime were made less attractive before it becomes habitual. Most offenders who land in jail arrive there too late, generally after habits of disrespect for others' rights are well established.

To have sentenced these boys to live with their parents for 60 years would have been absurd. The 10 or 15 years already passed at home proved a failure. It may be, as the doctor implied, that some of the parents were more deserving of a term in prison than the boys.

I like the doctor's emphasis upon the need of early training and early restraints. In the tender years is the place to work for crime prevention. What parents need, however, is less scolding and more definite guidance.

He missed a good opportunity to tell about the child guidance clinic of your city and the help which is available for parents at Minnesota university.

FINE PIECE OF LAND AT A GREAT BARGAIN

This is a fine place for a Miniature Golf Course, right close to the business center of the city. The plot is two hundred feet wide and one hundred and ninety feet deep. This piece of ground is located on Beaver street, just across the street from the old Shengango Valley Hospital, and is part of the hospital grounds. It is about half a block from Grant street and it can be made level as a floor with a scrap in a few days. Go up and look this ground over and you will see what a wonderful bargain you can get. There is just one tier of lots between this plot and Jefferson street.

Special Washington Correspondent of The New Castle News.
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 25.—After waiting more than two years, Victor W. Hoye of New Castle has been granted the patent rights on a novel draft regulator for automobile radiators, and Lee E. Allen of the same city has been awarded the rights on a hot-metal mixer, the United States patent office announced today.

Hoye filed with the patent office application for the rights on his regulator April 23, 1928, and his request has just been granted. He has been allowed one claim on his invention, which is described by the patent office as follows:

Device Described
In a device of the class described, a casing side wall of rectangular form at its upper end and having its lower portion formed by a relatively short and a comparatively long vertical side disposed side by side and joined by a common vertical wall, said common vertical wall terminating below the upper end of said casing side wall leaving the two tubes in communication with each other at their upper ends, the lower end of said relatively short tube being bent inwardly throughout its circumference to provide a valve seat, a ball valve in said relatively short tube resting on said seat, and a rectangular cover having a continuous flange surrounding and secured to said rectangular upper end of said casing side wall.

Allen filed application for the rights on his novel hot-metal mixer with the patent office June 16, 1928. He again requested the rights on August 8, 1929, and his application has just been granted. He has been allowed seven claims on his device and has assigned his rights to the Pennsylvania Engineering Works of New Castle.

The patent office prints the following brief technical description of Allen's invention:

In a hot metal mixer, a ladle having a body portion and a cover portion, said cover portion having a charging hole therein, a casting surrounding the charging hole and supporting a refractory lining for said hole, an arm having an offset end portion pivotally supported on the cover and adapted to swing in a vertical arc over and away from the charging hole, a lid secured to the arm, a link connected with the arm, and an operating means for reciprocating the link to open or close the cover, said lid having a floating connection with the arm.

Amazing Age of Turk Exceeded Many Times Historians Declare

By CHARLES STANTON

NEW YORK, July 25.—Exactly how long can a human being live?

Fresh interest in the question of longevity has just been aroused by the arrival in the United States of Zaro Agha—an aged, withered-faced Turk, who claims that his years now total 156.

The appearance in America of this modern Methusalem has captured wide attention. Americans always lend an ear and an eye to anything bizarre or unique—witness the popularity of phenomena such as tree-sitting contests and endurance rocking laughing and talking competitions.

When the ballyhoo of publicity that greeted this child of the eighteenth century and survivor of eleven wives dies down, scientists will examine him to determine if he is really as old as he says.

Many Rivals.
Certainly history, past and contemporary, records the achievement by various individuals of an age commensurate to that of hardy Zaro Agha's.

Rafael Rabel, an Arab shiek, says that he is 157 years of age. A prominent physician of Stamboul announced recently that he had found a 163-year-old woman named Fatima Harum.

Going back to other days we find the famous William Edwards of Cardiff, who died in 1787 at the ripe old age of 167. A Brazilian lady named Louisa Truxo was supposed to be 174.

Petrash Zartan of Hungary firmly believed that on the day of his death he had passed no less than 185 years on earth.

In Shoreditch, England, lies the grave of Thomas Caron, whose tombstone records he passed away at the none-too-tender age of 207. Of course the engraver may have made a slight mistake and meant to carve the number of years as 107.

However we will return to our visitor, Zaro Agha, although he seems a mere boy compared to the late Mr. Caron. Mr. Agha's first day in New York could be considered a very strenuous one for a youth of 78—just half his age.

Boxed Two Rounds

Besides receiving distinguished visitors and admiring girls and posing for cameramen on the roof of the Woolworth Building, Mr. Agha sparred two rounds with his great-grandchild, Ahmet, Musa, a lightweight champion of Turkey. Zaro Agha, an abstainer from liquor on either brewed or distilled form, came here on the invitation of Prohibitionists, who wished to use him as an exhibit of what shunning the wicked bottle can do to help prolong human life.

He is being examined by medical men, seeking the secret which Ponce de Leon searched for in vain hundreds of years ago. Mr. Agha has declared he will not go into a circus sideshow, but has made the long jaunt from his native Turkey just to help science prolong the normal life of men and women from three-score ten. But he expects to be paid.

Plane Descends In Panama Wilds; Travelers Pass Night In Jungle

By JAMES RYAN

International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHRISTOBAL, C. Z., July 25.—Five passengers on a Pan-American Airways plane had the unusual experience of spending the night in the heart of the Panamanian jungle somewhere between David and France Fields when the San Salvador plane, on its initial one day flight to Cristobal lost its bearings and made a forced landing in a clearing which fortunately presented itself.

The plane which is scheduled to arrive at France Field at 5:00 p. m. actually arrived the following day at 8:00 a. m.

On schedule time the Pan-American Airways tri-motored Ford plane, N. C. 9670 with five passengers on board and a crew of two pilots, a radio operator and a steward, took off from the Republic of Salvador in an effort to inaugurate a one day flight to Cristobal making the usual stops enroute.

The passengers, among whom was Captain David A. Newcomer, U. S. M. C. enjoyed the trip immensely under the guiding hand of Pilot R. C. Ashley, the big plane functioned perfectly.

All went well during the day and in due time the plane arrived at David, but a short two hours flight to Cristobal and the passengers settled comfortably back in their seats as the plane took off on the last leg of its flight.

Upon leaving David, however, a severe storm was encountered and the heavy black clouds enveloped the plane like a shroud. In an effort to climb out of it, Pilot Ashley lifted his plane higher and higher but visibility steadily became worse and, in desperation he dropped down again until he was flying but a scant 200 feet above the jungles. The clouds persisted, however, and all seemed lost when, as if by an act of providence, the sharp eye of the pilot discerned a rift in the clouds and below, a small clearing where a forest fire had wrought havoc in the undergrowth.

Rapidly the plane circled this clearing, its only salvation, in an effort to determine whether a landing could be made. With superb skill Pilot Ashley finally set his plane down and drew a long breath of relief.

But their troubles were not over. Millions of mosquitoes swarmed about the defenseless passengers and crew driving them inside the small cabin in self defense. There was no drinking water and no food. Sleep was impossible and, as one passenger expressed "We could hear a mountain lion screaming right under the window."

The nine persons spent the entire night cooped up in the plane's cabin. Then, as the morning dawned, "came the dawn" and with it fair weather. Almost 24 hours later, the plane arrived at France Field the passengers disembarked and were soon enroute to their various destinations. They were good sports and there was no grumbling although the mosquito bites with which they were decorated must have smarted considerably.

End Drive Against Unlicensed Dogs

Many Owners In Mercer County Prosecuted And Several Dogs Are Shot

MERCER, Pa., July 25.—County Agent Harry Higbee announces that his drive against unlicensed dogs is over. During the time however, there were 75 owners of dogs prosecuted and several dogs killed. He states he had less difficulty this year than any time previous. The owners seem to be more willing to cooperate and have realized that it is not a joke that the laws concerning the dogs must be obeyed.

Prices Down In Dull Session Of Today's Market

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor
NEW YORK, July 25.—The general trend of prices was downward today in an extremely dull and featureless market. Stock sales up to the noon hour totaled only 489,000 shares, or at the rate of a million and a quarter shares for the full session. A few weak spots were uncovered in the forenoon, which encouraged the bears to extend their short selling activities to other sections of the market and the general list of industrial and utilities slipped downward.

Evidence of the piling up of unloading funds was seen in the marking down of the call rate to 1 per cent in the outside market, for money loaned over the week-end. Business and industrial news was unchanged and commodity markets dull.

National Cash Register broke to 46 on a moderate turnover. Industrial Alcohol was off 2 points at 69 for a new low on the move. Warner Brothers was again under pressure and sold under 42 for a loss of about 2 points. Speculative eveninging-up for the week-end was reported in the commission houses and selling orders were larger than buying orders from the rank and file of small traders.

Announcement of the addition of 7,000 workmen to the RCA-Victor payrolls, with a contemplated addition of 30,000 men by the first part of August attracted speculative attention to Radio stock. Good buying in the forenoon forced that stock above 45, but in the general dullness surrounding the market in the early afternoon, Radio sold off with the rest of the list.

Pool activities in Vanadium, Auburn and other stocks and commodities were at least temporarily discontinued and these stocks appeared but seldom on the tape. The same was true of U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Anaconda, General Electric and Westinghouse, as well as a dozen or more of the active utilities and specialties. The Rails were dead from the speculative standpoint, and very little investment buying was taking place. Autostrop razor replaced Atlantic Refining as the feature of the industrials, reaching the year's highest price at 78 in a fairly active turnover.

Chicago Parents Have Right Babies Scientist Claims

Chicago Families Now Have Right Babies And Will Not Change

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, July 25.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bamberger and Mr. and Mrs. William Watkins have the right babies and they will not trade, the decision of eminent scientists notwithstanding, the parents decided today after an all night conference.

Going into a conference with a group of physicians and a lawyer, the four distraught parents straightened out the celebrated baby mix-up to their own satisfaction and went home smiling along toward dawn today with the same babies they took home from the Englewood hospital where the infants were born at almost the same time on June 20.

Only a few hours earlier a jury of scientists, with Dr. Arnold Kegel, Health Commissioner, in the role of a modern Solomon, decided that the Bambergers had the Watkins baby and vice versa. Parent Watkins was ready to accept the decision and make the trade, but Papa Bamberger refused outright. Inspector Ferdinand Watzek, the Viennese sleuth, cast the one dissenting vote, holding they were the right children.

Slight Accident Reported To Police
Some Damage Is Done As Various Cars Figure In Street Collisions

DeWayne Cooper of 421 Meyer avenue, reported that he was on Court street and making a right turn into an alley above Milton street, when Albert Earhart of Masury cut to the right to pass his car and hit and damaged his machine.

George E. Fair of West Middlesex, Pa., reported that he was enroute north on Jefferson street, at the public square, as Ohio license 781-659 enroute north on Jefferson street cut in ahead of him and the machines came together, some damage being done.

Mary Isabella of 1115 Croton avenue, reported that she was enroute east on Croton avenue at Fern street, when a car bearing Pennsylvania license M-3638 going the same way, hit and damaged his machine.

F. McCloud of Youngstown, O., reported that his machine was parked on the public square, when Pennsylvania license 5587-K ran into and damaged his car.

CHIEF HORNER IS ON VACATION

Chief of Police C. C. Horner is enjoying a week's vacation from his duties as head of the city police force at this time. He is taking a complete rest, rusticiating at his summer home on the banks of the Slippery Rock most of the time, although enjoying a side trip here and there occasionally. During his absence, Captain J. Ed. Elder is acting as chief of police, to which duties he is accustomed, due to his previous experience as head of the city police department.

For one invention alone—a new electric light—Edison made notes extending to 40,000 pages.

Local Men Catch Nice Lot Of Fish

Season's Best Campers To Be Cited On Eve Of Camp Rentz Closing

Three men from this city spent Thursday fishing in French creek. In the party were Louis Diamond, John Duball and Walter Linkenstein. They report catching a fine lot of fish. Getting fourteen bass, two of which weighed five pound each.

Loses Best Clothes Saves His Money

Although robbers carried away his best clothes, a prized watch and chain, a 32 caliber revolver and some silverware, valued at about $100, Clarence Singlaub, young farmer of Perry township, outwitted robbers who broke into his farm house Wednesday night.

County Detective H. M. Lee, Constable A. S. Leslie and State Trooper J. A. Gonnell, who investigated the robbery Thursday believe as does the farmer that the robbers came to get $55 which Singlaub had in his house. Not finding the money, after they ransacked a room on the second floor of the house, the robbers made away with whatever they could get.

Return From Tour Of Eastern U. S.

Anthony Basileo of South Mill street, Frank Bab of Pennsylvania avenue, Joseph Quarello of South Mill street, Theodore Hass of South Mercer street and Victor Zarile of Ashland avenue returned home late last night following a week's tour by automobile of the different cities in eastern United States.

Among the places visited were Atlantic City, New York, Cincinnati, O., Baltimore and other important cities. They report having had a pleasant trip throughout.

Set Last Campfire For Monday Night

Closing campfire exercises at Camp Fred L. Rentz of the local Y. M. C. A. will occur Monday evening, July 28, at 8 o'clock, daylight savings time. Awards for the first and second section campers will be made at this program.

Parents and friends of the boys are invited to attend. The contingent of campers will return to the city Tuesday morning, when 50 underprivileged boys of the city will be taken there for a week at the guests of different New Castle groups.

New Castle Street Car Men Win Again

Mayor William Gillespie, C. C. Coulthard and other officials and employees of the New Castle division of the Penn-Ohio railway company participated in the semi-annual Safety banquet of the company held at the Ohio hotel, Youngstown, last night. New Castle division captured the campaign, by having the highest percentage for the least possible accidents per chargeable mile. The safety contests is an inter-division affair.

Monument Lights To Shine Until Midnight

Council today voiced the belief that the two spotlights which now play on the Soldiers' monument at Public Square should be turned off at midnight and the electric company officials will be advised to that effect. The city is trying out the plan, advocated by Louis Rounds who said the city could have two $95 lights of 1500 candlepower at the rate of $65 each which calls for 600 candlepower.

LEONARDO LIVED NEAR QUAKE SCENE

C. Leonardo, East street shoemaker, was born and raised within forty or fifty miles of the scene of the disastrous earthquake in Italy and is much concerned over the terrible happenings there. During the period of his life, spent in that country, he never witnessed a catastrophe such as the present, although there were occasions on which quakes of a slighter character occurred.

This incident recalled to his mind a happening in 1907, while he was back on a visit in Naples and his home. One night about eleven o'clock, as the people were thronging from the volcano of southern Italy became suddenly active and showered the city with fine lava ash.

The people were terrified and rushed for the nearest cover. In the morning the city was covered at all points about a foot and a half of the lava ash.

DEMENTED MAN NOT WAR VETERAN

Dr. H. H. Rosenthal, commander of Perry S. Gaston Post No. 343, American Legion, stated today that he had investigated the case of the man named Dean and claiming to be a World War veteran, and had found that he was not a soldier of the war. He was held for a time yesterday at the police station because of his actions and statements.

DOG LOST
Robert Wallace of 473 Neshannock avenue on Thursday asked the assistance of the police in locating his Boston bulldog, which is missing from his home. It answers to the name of Pat.

First FISHER BROS. Lowered PRICES

On November 29, 1929, Fisher's announced the lowering of prices. On June 19, 1930, they announced the completion of this adjustment. Two days later J. C. Penney announced lowered prices, then came such companies as Frank & Seder (Pittsburgh), The Bailey Co. (Cleveland), and 2 weeks ago Montgomery Ward made a similar announcement.

Tomorrow

Fisher Brothers were fully 8 months ahead of other retailers in foreseeing the coming of lower price standards. That is why we now are in position to take advantage of the lower manufacturing costs which have been forced on makers by this country-wide lowering of price by retailers. These items here advertised are the lowest prices in 14 years . . . PRICES made possible thru the combine efforts of manufacturers and Fishers.

Bad Check Passer Busy In This City

Is Making A Practice Of Defrauding Rooming House Proprietors

The police authorities today issued warning to the people of the city concerning a bad check passer who has been defrauding rooming house and boarding house keepers of this city. It may be possible that he will try some tactics and the people are asked to be on the lookout and seek the assistance of the police if he is located.

According to the information secured by Detective John Young and Officer Thomas Lynch, this man has been posing as a line foreman and has a buddy with him.

His usual stunt is to approach a rooming house or boarding house keeper stating that he is looking for rooms. When the price is given him he writes a check for the amount of a week's room and board, plus three dollars extra and gives it in payment for the room.

He receives three dollars change and departs with his buddy, never to return, and the check always proves bad.

The check artist is described as follows: white man, ruddy complexion, light suit, straw hat. He is of medium build. His buddy is tall, wears a black suit and a soft hat.

Heathen lands are ones that have no padlocks.

Chicken Thieves Fail To Appear

The monotony of waiting through the wee hours of the morning for an arrest of vandals who annoy farmers in the northern part of the county was tested early Thursday morning by county sleuths.

Although Constable A. S. Leslie from the district attorney's office and Michael Shulick of the state police, met with no success when their intended victims did not appear, they found the experience anything but exciting.

For days farmers in the northern part of the county had complained of prowlers who carry searchlights and scare women and children with their antics in the dark. Recently Andrew Hartman and James Black, farmers of Washington township, near Volant, said that someone had tried to quiet a watchdog by throwing stones at the animal. Other reports hastened authorities to the scene.

For several hours Leslie and Shulick waited, but with no success. No one appeared with a searchlight—not even a firefly.

ASKS AUTHORITIES TO LOOK FOR CAR

The police authorities have received a letter from David F. Duff of Lake Pines nursery, North Lima, O., stating that his Ford touring car bearing Ohio license 754-279, was stolen in Youngstown and asking the authorities here to be on the lookout for it and get possession of it when found.

DYNAMITER OF HOME CAPTURED BY STATE POLICE

ed to Albert Raligh of Cherry Tree, near Erie.

"You give me good berrial," the nearly illegible note directed. "Make it right, then give the rest to Daddy and mother. My insurance is $515."

Is Under Guard.

A guard of state police was posted at Langham's bedside this morning. Surrounded by the uniformed figures the remorseful father made several attempts to talk but fell back exhausted. His efforts to scribble messages to his guards also ended in failure.

Discouraged, Langham mutely appealed to the troopers to tell him the result of the dynamiting. Once he lifted a wan hand with two fingers outspread, as if to verify the deaths of the two children.

Hospital attaches believe Langham's weakened condition, of which the knife wound is a contributing factor, may result in his voice might reach him were he able to hear, is Mrs. La Mura Langham. Her life was at first despaired of but attaches today said she was "much improved."

Leads Wild Chase.

The trail of the fleeing Langham was picked up by Sergeant James V. Buckley and Corporal Robert M. Fitzpatrick of the state police yesterday afternoon. A detail of troopers, commanded by the men, followed footprints in the soft earth along a power line right-of-way back into the mountains of Emigh Run.

For 15 miles the trail led the troopers in devious pursuit. Langham had forded creeks and raced across clearings in his flight.

The troopers were spurred along their search at the Kelch farm, along Chickory Ridge, where they learned that a tattered, unshaven and forlorn appearing man had passed on the previous day, apparently headed for the mountain side bordering Arcadia.

In Serious Condition.

The day-old trail led to the farm of Edward Irwin. There it ceased, and there, covering beneath the hay in the barn, the troopers found Langham, his throat bleeding from the knife wound.

The troopers rushed Langham to Spangler hospital where it was found the knife had been driven to within a fraction of an inch of the jugular vein. The tendons and another large artery in the lower part of the neck had been severed.

A length of fuse and a dynamite cap was found at the hospital where Langham's clothing was searched, police said.

Little Known Island Offers Strange Lures

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—A land of pagan love songs; where trial marriages usually take, and where a dress-maker would starve—

A land where religion is the chief occupation; where books are bound from tree leaves, and where birds talk and butterflies fly like birds—

A land of the slimmest women and the fattest pigs.
Such is the glamorous Isle of Bali. Tourist bureaus and steamship offices in San Francisco report an increasing number of requests for information concerning a hitherto unknown land tucked away in the Pacific and seldom seen by travelers. The gist of questions is a variation of:

"Where is this trick Island of Bali?"
Bali is a small enchanted isle of the Dutch East Indies group, due east of Java and on the trade route from Singapore to Australia. It is an overnight's cruise from the beaten path of world travel and therein lies its principal charm.

Bali is a veritable Garden of Eden, with its natives living in Adam-and-Eve simplicity. Manners and customs remain the same today as they were a thousand years ago, unvarnished by contact with the outside world. The wise Dutch government, under whose protecting wing Bali is allowed to "live its own life," has made no attempt to impose Western customs. Only some of the most cruel religious rites and practices have been tactfully controlled, such as the burning of widows on the biers of their dead husbands.

The island is 90 miles and scarcely 50 miles wide, yet maintains a million peaceful, polygamous people. The women are the fairest in all Malaysia. There are 70 per cent more women than men. They are tall and regal in bearing, with bronzed skins and beautiful figures.

Balinese women wear a tightly swathed batik sarong around the hips and no clothing above. From long generations of walking with burdens on their heads, they have developed a swinging, undulating gait—straight and supple.

Frank Price Knott, writing for National Geographic, says of Bali: "Praying to pagan gods and fooling pagan devils are the main pastimes. Tourist attractions are many, but tourists few. The island lies hard by the path of round-the-world trippers, yet few see it."

For this reason, the Matson Navigation Company has included it as a "side trip" on their Around Pacific Cruise of the S. S. Malolo, sailing from San Francisco September 20 and returning December 19.
"Bali is 100 per cent pagan. Efforts of Moslems and Christians to convert the island to their respective religions have been few. There is a story that one Christian missionary labored in Bali many years before converting one native. Then, the story goes, this native apostate, unable to bear the extraction of his fellows, finally sought vengeance by murdering the missionary."

Fall From Window Is Fatal To Man

(International News Service)
WILKINSBURG, Pa., July 25.—Thinking he heard shots in the street below, Howard Riddell, 33, leaped too far out of the window shortly after midnight today, lost his balance and fell two stories to the street.
His skull was fractured and two hours later he was dead.

South Siders Meet August 14

Secretary Hartzell Houston of the South Side Board of Trade announced today that the next meeting of the Board of Trade will take place on Thursday, August 14. At that time final arrangements for a South Side Bargain Day will be completed. The meeting place has not as yet been designated.

Calls Dry Law Repeal An Empty Gesture

(International News Service)
BOSTON, Mass., July 25.—Elliott D. Stone, assistant United States Attorney, in an address delivered here recently, declared that repeal of the Massachusetts dry law would constitute an empty gesture which would give sanction to "a philosophy that one may reduce the question of obedience to the law to selective process."

Seek To Ban Jazz Music On Organs

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, July 25.—The American Guild of Organists, meeting here for its ninth annual convention recently, passed a recommendation that the organ be preserved as an instrument of worship, consecrated to dignity and spirituality.

LOSES POCKETBOOK
Mrs. J. M. Himes of Enon Valley R. D. 2, reported to the police Thursday that she lost her pocketbook in Wright's market and had reason to believe that it had been taken by a man, who was near her, while she was making a purchase there. It contained $7 in money.

T. J. Ferguson, Edison avenue, operator at the local office of Kay, Richards & Co., is enjoying his annual vacation at the present time. Mr. Ferguson is taking short camping trips.

Three Are Drowned Near Pittsburgh

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, July 25.—Two young men and a little girl in this district were dead today from drowning, a small boy had been burned to death, and police were investigating what may be a suicide by drowning. The dead are:

Alexander Copawell, 19, East Pittsburgh, drowned in Allegheny river near Nadine Station.

William Harris, 21, of Mars, drowned in Allegheny river near Tarentum.

Clara Koenig, of Duquesne Heights, drowned in Paris Lake, Upper St. Clair township.

Raymond La Marca, 3, Pittsburgh, burned while playing with matches.

The information police had about the possible suicide was that a pile of clothing was found under the Washington bridge over Allegheny river and two men said they had overheard one of several men talking say: "I didn't think he would do it."

Man Drowns Trying To Save Bulldog

Jumps Into River And Sinks—Bulldog Gets Out Safely

EEAVER FALLS, Pa., July 25.—Frederick A. Megown, 58, pottery worker, 730 Sixth avenue, was drowned in the Beaver river while endeavoring to rescue his pet bulldog. His niece, Florence Ecoff, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ecoff, Warren O., stood by helplessly.

Megown, the girl and the dog had gone to the river to watch the dog and Megown, believing it was about to sink, jumped to the rescue. The girl saw Megown sink into the water and gave the alarm.

Firemen recovered the body and worked for two hours with a pulmotor in a futile effort at resuscitation. The dog made its way to the shore and now keeps mournful vigil beside the casket of the dead master. Megown had been employed at the Mayer China Company plant 30 years. He leaves four sisters and two brothers.

Three Nuns Hurt In Auto Crash

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 25.—Three nuns attached to Mercy hospital were recovering from slight injuries today as police were searching for the last man driver whose car crashed into the machine in which the sisters were riding. Police said they knew the driver's identity and expected an early arrest.

The nuns, Sister Huberta, Sister Ethelreda and a third whose name was not obtained by police, were driving to the hospital when the accident forced their car into a tree on Forbes street.

CAMP FILLED, 30 SCOUTS OUT HOME

BUTLER, July 25.—Thirty Boy Scouts were returned to their homes today when they were unable to obtain housing accommodations at Camp Buccoo on Slippery Rock creek near Keister. The camp is caring for 70 Scouts from Butler and Armstrong counties. Two new huts are being erected as donations from the Kiwanis Club of Kittanning.

6,000-MILE RACE FOR 60 CENTS

In a wager of 60 cents two British autoists, J. A. R. Bromage and S. G. Stubbs, recently drove their cars 6,000 miles from India to London. The journey occupied 73 days, of which 41 were running days and the others rest periods. The men traveled from Lahore to Baluchistan, across the Persian desert to Iraq, thence to Syria, and by sea to Greece, after which they continued through Austria and Germany and on to Calais, where they crossed the English channel. Both autoists are in the Indian government engineering service.

WHEN AN EGYPTIAN MOB RIOTED

Egyptian rioters shown milling about the mounted police in Mansura when Nasha Pasha, former Premier, visited that city. Six were killed and forty-two injured before the authorities could quell the disturbance. Nasha Pasha, marked by X in inset, was surrounded by loyal supporters eager to shield him from the wrath of the mob.

Foreign Film Stars Make Good In American Talkies

By FREDERIC A. CHASE

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, July 25.—Every day in every way it becomes more and more obvious that those persons who early in the rise of foreign film stars, spoke out of turn.

Paramount has just signed Roberto Rey, the Spanish-French music hall favorite, for American-made pictures. Rey is press-agented to be on the same general plan as Maurice Chevalier, whose personality by now is a household byword. Rey sings tenor, ingratiates with his smile, and handles his English with somewhat the same interesting accent Chevalier has.

This studio which is importing Rey already had foreign actors as four of its topnotchers. Chevalier, from France; Ernst Rolf, from Sweden; Marlene Dietrich from Germany and Nina Martini, from Italy. Evidently that Continental touch and adorable accent are a great commercial success.

Other screen salaries pale before the fabulous rate being paid Baby June Dwan Smith, now working in her first picture.

The baby only gets $75 a day, but it only takes her twenty minutes to do a day's work. The State Industrial Welfare Committee forbids working June Dwan more than that.

If she could do eight hours work at the same rate, the studio estimates she would receive $1,800 per day or $10,800 a week. Pretty good wages for a beginner.

The temperamental microphone at an RKO location in a railroad yard called for the service of three locomotives the other day. Robert Armstrong, the hero, plays the part of a locomotive engineer who signals his sweetie, Jean Arthur, by toots of the whistle.

The microphone wouldn't take kindly to just any toot. It had to be musical and of a certain pitch. So a crew of engineers spent half a day crawling over the railroad yard locomotives, trying to find the musical whistle. The equipment of three engines was taken apart before the microphone was satisfied.

The craze for realism has caused Fox Films to import a real warden's daughter to play the corresponding film role and for good measure a bring along her father, too, Warden Lewis Lawes, of Sing Sing prison, who will supply technical advice for the picture, which has a penitentiary for a background.

Director John Ford was being shown through the prison a few months ago, and was greatly taken with the spontaneous charm of Joan Marie, the warden's eighteen year old daughter.

He invited her to come to Hollywood to play the role.

Joan Marie was born, inside the prison gates, at the warden's home, in 1922 and has lived most of her life with the gray walls. She has had prisoners for playmates, and consequently feels right at home in a penitentiary locale.

Gehlbach Leads Big Air Derby

(International News Service)

HOUSTON, Texas, July 25.—With Lieut. Lee Gehlbach of Little Rock, Ark., still leading by a wide margin, the eleven airplanes still in the all-American air derby today prepared to take off from municipal airport for San Angelo, Tex., the next control point.

Lieutenant Gehlbach, flying a small monoplane, had an elapsed time of 3:01.34 on his arrival here from Little Rock late yesterday. His total unofficial elapsed time was 15:22.32.

THREE MINUTES UNDER WATER KILLS GIRL

WELLSBURG, W. Va., July 25.—Margaret Green, 12, was drowned in the Ohio river near Brilliant, O. Although the girl was only under water for about three minutes, a crew of men used a pulmotor without success.

TRIMMINGS NOW FEATURE ALL NEW MODELS IN PARIS

By ALICE LANGELEIR

International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, July 25.—Trimming is taking on tremendous importance at all the mid-season showings in Paris. Not that the new models are really lavishly trimmed, but after the bare clothes of the postwar decade, they confirm the reported revival of elaboration.

Worth borders the decoilets of evening gowns by velvet ribbons which tie in a bowknot at front and are held in place to a touch of bead embroidery. Lucile Paray puts velvet ribbon tied in a knot on one side of the neckline of her day-time tweed frocks.

Even the borders of skirts come trimmed these days, one of the large designers using petals and ruchings around the hems and another showing a tiny border of black tulle finishing a white evening frock, suggesting that the old-fashioned "dust fruffle" is perhaps not so far away if long skirts are really going to stay.

Patou trims one of his smartest tailored models with large bone buttons and Madeleine Vionnet uses tiny covered ones.

Another dressmaker prefers large faceted jet buttons on the fur cuffs of a new coat.

Pleats are very important and come on evening gowns in unpressed fashion, widening toward the hem. Pleated flounces also mount with headings on some of the mid-season models.

Fringe is back on evening gowns, short fringe with a binding. Renee fringes the edge of the fabric itself for pretty scarf ends.

Farmer's Death Held Accidental

SHARON, Pa., July 25.—A verdict of accidental death was returned by Coroner William McCrath in the case of Hartley Findley of near Milledgeville who was found burned to death by his brother, James Findley yesterday.

The victim is supposed to have set fire to a stack of hay and to have been overcome by the intense heat, falling into the flames.

Mr. Findley was a well known farmer of the Cochran section and had lived on the farm where he was killed for many years. He was 60 years of age and leaves the following survivors: Three brothers, Charles, of Franklin, John of Washington, and James with whom he lived. He also leaves one sister.

MANCHESTER ESTATE PLACED AT $325,000

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 25.—Including life insurance totaling $100,000, Leroy A. Manchester, general attorney for the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company, who killed himself June 27, left an estate worth approximately $325,000. It includes stock in the company which he served and other companies. Appraisal was filed in court Thursday.

BULL SHOT WHILE GORING FARMER

GALLIPOLIS, O., July 25.—Charles Ratliff, 78, Jackson county farmer, escaped death on his farm north of here today, when a vicious bull knocked him down three times and was goring him with his horns. A farm hand killed the bull with a shot.

Before long people will sign documents with their fingerprints, says an expert, which may increase the value of the old ink-covered postoffice pen.—The Indianapolis Star.

Farmer's Death Held Accidental

SHARON, Pa., July 25.—A verdict of accidental death was returned by Coroner William McCrath in the case of Hartley Findley of near Milledgeville who was found burned to death by his brother, James Findley yesterday.

The victim is supposed to have set fire to a stack of hay and to have been overcome by the intense heat, falling into the flames.

Mr. Findley was a well known farmer of the Cochran section and had lived on the farm where he was killed for many years. He was 60 years of age and leaves the following survivors: Three brothers, Charles, of Franklin, John of Washington, and James with whom he lived. He also leaves one sister.

Families Of Kiwanians Fete At County Boy Scout Camp

Sixty Present To Enjoy Gay Festivities Of Local Club Last Night

CHICKEN DINNER IS FEATURE OF OUTING

Not for a long time have New Castle's Kiwanians and their wives and families enjoyed themselves to the near-hilarious extent they did at the club's annual outdoor frolic at Boy Scout Camp John M. Phillips, out beyond Rose Point, last night. Approximately 60 of their number took part in the affair.

With such men as Fred C. Wolford, a past president of the club, and L. C. Mantz, the present secretary, making up the committee in charge, and with other efficient members of the club assisting, the outing couldn't have been anything but a whizzing success. Veteran members—even J. C. Leonard, the oldest Kiwanian present—said it surpassed every previous outing like it.

A dinner—chicken, by the way—served about 6:30 opened the evening's festivities. Serving was under the direction of the regular kitchen staff under Camp Director LeRoy Norton's supervision. Scout Executive Herbert G. Horton was also present and saw to it that everything went the right way.

Before setting down to the dinner the group sang a verse of "America," following which the Rev. S. L. Maxwell, Epworth M. E. pastor and Kiwanian pronounced the invocation.

Immediately after dinner came a surprise program, rather a surprise to all but two. General Chairman Wolford and Mr. Mantz had laid careful plans for this part of the outing, and once started, their schemes were executed with little hesitation.

First came the "husband and wife calling" elimination for the grand contest at the New Castle Fair next month, when the winners named below will go out for county honors as representatives of the local club. For the most natural call to his wife, Attorney Frank A. Hoyer took honors among the men. Mrs. Julius Blaha was adjudged as the most effective "husband caller." A similar contest was held for the children, and Betty Drio's call for her dad was chosen best. But understand, there's to be no fair contest.

Then came a contest to determine the youngest and oldest Kiwanian present, with H. E. Miller winning honors in the first section and J. C. Leonard in the last. M. L. Wallace won the prize for the Kiwanian with the least hair, but "Lou" had plenty of competition. To every winner went an appropriate prize.

Judge R. L. Hildebrand presided over the first of the meeting while Mr. Wolford conducted the contests. Camp Director Norton and Bruce Ewing of The News served as judges. After the program at the lodge, the sedate business men lost themselves in an enthusiastic game of muskball, some in horseshoes while others did their stuff on the improvised 9-hole golf course of the scouts. The group also witnessed the camp's regular evening color ceremony.

Co-operating in every way was Scout Executive Horton, the camp staff and the Boy Scouts themselves, all doing their part in helping to make the visit of the service men and their families a most memorable day.

Local Travelers In Quake Zone

Word Awaited As To Whether Or Not They Actually Reached The District

The Misses Eleanor Colgan and Dorothy Stadelhofer, members of a party touring Europe, were scheduled during the present week to be in the Naples district of Italy and in the immediate vicinity of the scene of great destruction reported in that section of the world.

It is possible that they were stopped before reaching that point in their travels. Word is awaited here to determine whether or not they happened to be in the disaster district when the quake occurred. It is highly probable that they would not be very near the actual scene of the catastrophe.

Sweeper To Operate Tonight, Treser Says

Streets in the downtown section will be swept tonight according to Stanley Treser, superintendent of streets and automobilists are requested to remove their cars from streets before midnight. According to Treser the sweeper will not sweep in E. Washington street until the other downtown thoroughfares have been cleaned.

If exercises will reduce, why doesn't an overworked tummy get thin?

MOONEY PARDON ACTION DELAYED

Upon the decision of the state supreme court rests the success of the effort of John MacDonald of Baltimore, to aid in freeing Thomas J. Mooney and Warren K. Billings by confessing that the testimony he gave, which was largely responsible for the conviction of the men, for participation in the San Francisco Preparedness Day bombing, in 1916, was perjured. MacDonald is shown, above, in San Francisco, with his attorney, Charles Ruzicka, left.

Boys Make Concession; Won't Swim Until 1 P. M.

George Oberleightner, 13, and his pals—boys who swim in a "hole" in the Neshannock river near the P. R. R. crossing, Croton avenue, today visited city council chambers and after a statement, it was agreed the boys should not have to give up their hole but they have been requested to not swim before one o'clock p. m., so that any persons who work nights and must have sleep during the day time can have their rest.

Oberleightner acted as spokesman for the delegation of a dozen boys ranging from probably eight to 13 years of age.

He pointed out that the hole is the deepest that can be made and should the pool be moved south it will be near a storm sewer and cannot be made deep enough.

It was stated that the hole now near the North street bridge has been put in for the young boys who cannot swim.

Council and the mayor acted very nice to the boys and the young lads acted courteously relative to the desire of the lawmakers to keep harmony among all.

Council instructed Oberleightner to ask other boys not to swim before one o'clock and to try and have as much noise eliminated as possible.

Overnight Hike Is Treat To Campers

Camp Rents Boys Trudge Five Miles And Put Up For Night; Sleep In Open

(Special To The News)
CAMP FRED L. RENTZ, July 25.—Returning from an overnight hike two hours after the break of dawn, 30 or 40 boys wearied down from the night's exertions and struggling on with the thought of sleep ahead, trudged the Slippery Rock road en route back to camp, where a warm breakfast awaited them on their arrival.

The afternoon and the night before had been an eventful one. Upon arrival of the hikers about five miles distant from the "Y" camp a cooling plunge was taken, followed by the making of campfires, around which groups of three and four cooked their dinners together. After the meal was over muskball teams were chosen and everyone took part. Darkness soon came and beds were made between two fires which radiated its warmth for several feet around. Stories were related by George Muse, Clem Semler, Henry MacNichols and camp songs were sung. After taps sleep did not come quite so quickly and "cracking wise" soon formed the chief amusement. Finally all was quiet and sleep came. On Thursday when breakfast had been done a rest hour was called, when all were ordered to remain in their respective tents. Following rest hour and inspection the games were played.

Mrs. Waddell, mother of Jack Waddell, furnished some good delicious cookies for the whole camp, which made everyone's mouth water.

INSTALL LIGHT
City council today concurred in the motion presented by Councilman Reeves in a session at city hall to install a 250 candlepower light at Division street and an alley, near King Humbert Society building.

Cochet Defeats George Lott In Davis Cup Play

America And France Breaks Even In First Day's Play In Davis Cup Series

By FREDERIC K. ABBOTT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROLAND GARROS STADIUM, Paris, July 25.—The United States and France broke even today in the first day's play of the 1930 Davis cup challenge round, each winning one singles match.

William T. Tilden II, defeated Jean Borotra 2-6, 7-5, 6-4, 7-5, but George M. Lott, youthful contender from Chicago, lost in straight sets to the far superior play of Henri Cochet, ace of the French squad, 6-4, 6-2, 6-2.

The Cochet-Lott match was almost the reverse of the earlier fray, in which Tilden won himself new glory by downing the bounding Borotra with a magnificent exhibition of strategy and headwork.

Cochet, unconsciously or otherwise, emulated Tilden, and played Coolly and easily from the baseline, pitting his vast experience and mathematical accuracy against the vigor and strength of his young opponent.

The French genius simply outclassed Lott from start to finish. He never was extended, although Lott put up a valiant fight and ran one game to deuce seven times before dropping it to the experienced Frenchman. Cochet was at the top of his form, a form decidedly different from that he displayed at Wimbledon when Wilmer Allison of Austin, Texas toppled him rudely from the throne he had occupied in 1927 and 1929.

Assessors Preparing To Set Valuations For Ensuing 3 Years

County assessors met with the county commissioners today to secure their books preparatory to making the triennial assessment. Work on this assessment, on which tax millage for the next three years will be based, is supposed to start September 1st, but in some of the larger districts work will begin before that time. Commissioners are endeavoring to secure the co-operation of assessors in equalizing valuation throughout the county. This is a very difficult problem considering the fact that there is a different assessor in each district.

City Plans To Place Hydrants

Council met today at city hall and concurred in the recommendation regarding two new fire hydrants which Fire Chief Lynn recommended installed. Councilman Reeves presented the recommendation. One will be placed in Vogan street, 180 feet southwest of Huron avenue, and the other in Washington street, half way between Rose avenue and Hazel street.

That's rotten shooting. The Chicago hoodlums must be getting nervous.

Hot Summer Days Recalls Memories Of Organ Grinders

What has become of our old Italian organ grinders, and their subtle and cheerful little monkey companions?

It has been a long time since that popular air "In the Good Old Summer Time" has been heard on the peculiar organ of the dark skinned man from sunny Italy. Nor have we heard the tune on the street piano, or hurdy-gurdy, as it was called.

It looks as if the organ grinder has made a permanent exit from the streets of New Castle. If he has, it is, in some respects to be regretted. The picturesque fellow with a red bandana handkerchief around his neck and pants baggy at the knees, narrow at the bottom, is a rather pleasing memory.

Always a congregation of children would faithfully follow the organist up and down the streets, partly to hear the music but mainly to watch closely the comic antics of the little monkey attached to the organ on a chain.

The monkey would proudly strut to and fro when his master parked himself on a curb stone, holding his hat appealingly for contributions.

In one of New Castle's old record books, it is stated that the first organ grinder ever seen in this city made his appearance on the 20th day of May, 1852, 77 years ago. The organist and his monkey companion traveled down Washington street, much to the curiosity of the inhabitants.

But if we should see an organist today, it would probably create as much of a sensation.

Today, when we walked down street radio music floats to our ears, from homes and stores. Formerly it was the grinding of an organ or a hurdy-gurdy.

tirely different, but there are some who hope that it may be the greasy organ grinder again.

Harmony Short Line Wants Bus Privilege

Has Promised City Two Hours Service Between New Castle And Pittsburgh

Council today met in the City building and were advised by the city clerk that notice has been given to the city that the Harmony Short Line Motor Transportation company has made application for a renewal of their certificate of public convenience and that a hearing will be held by the Public Service commission at Pittsburgh, August 6. It was referred to Solicitor White.

White informed council that he had been promised by the company that when the renewal is granted the company will give two hours service from New Castle via Ellwood City and Zelenole to Pittsburgh and that the fare will be approximately the same as the fare between "Youngstown and Butler." White reported that the new road is to be opened in the near future.

City Can Pave And Assess As One Job

City Proposes To Enact Legislation For Improving Laurel Boulevard

Solicitor Robert White today presented an opinion during council session in which he told councilmen that the city can pave the two 18-foot strips in Laurel boulevard between Highland avenue and Neshannock boulevard and assess the improvement as one job against the abutting property owners. Councilman Genkinger advised Solicitor White to draft a new ordinance for the improvement which will be done.

Can You Do Your Housework?

If you are not as well as you want to be, if you are weak, nervous or rundown, give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. Take at least three bottles. It will tone up your whole system and help you to eat better, sleep better and feel better.

Mrs. Marie Vriesenga,
2002 Lexington Ave.,
New York, New York.

"My work is keeping a rooming house in New York. I was weak and tired and didn't seem to feel well at all. Some friends told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it four times a day. It has helped me very much. I feel better in all ways now."

Ask Your Friends

Mrs. Paulina Pascuzzi,
316 Tremont Ave.,
East Orange, New Jersey

"I never had any appetite and I could not sleep well, and I was irregular and often suffered from headaches because of my age. I read a booklet left at my door, and so I took eight bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have also taken the Herb Medicine. I feel stronger in every way now. I have gained weight and am not nearly so nervous and can do my housework without getting too tired."

Edna Sluraff,
1129 Daly St.,
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

"I was completely rundown from nursing. I took four bottles of your medicine with very good results. I have been a nurse for twenty years without losing a patient, I am proud to say. I will continue to recommend any of the Lydia E. Pinkham products at any time and you may use my name."

New Castle Teacher Writes Interesting Letter From Capital

Elsie F. Calvin At Senate Ratification Of London Naval Treaty

The following letter has just been received by Fred L. Rentz from Elsie Ferguson Calvin, teacher at New Castle Senior High School, who takes this means to communicate with her students and friends in this city:

2127 Calif. St., N. W.
Apt. 503, Wash., D. C.
July 22, 1930.

Mr. Fred L. Rentz,
President of New Castle News,
New Castle, Pa.

M.; dear Mr. Rentz:

If it does not violate newspaper etiquette of the day, may I take this means of communicating with my former and prospective students of the Senior High School.

I have just had the most interesting, if somewhat tiring experience of sitting through the special session of the Senate and "listening in" on the ratification of the London Treaty. And I should like to say that Pennsylvanians, who are interested in Internationalism, the great contribution of the Twentieth Century to Civilization—and in the taking of necessary steps in the direction of World Peace, are justified in feeling proud of the fact that our Senior Senator, Hon. David A. Reed, in conjunction with Senators Robinson and Borah, handled the treaty ratification in such a masterly fashion. But strange to relate, again Pennsylvania was represented by only one senator, in the consideration of one of the most vital and far-reaching problems.

Altho' realizing as I do, that what actually transpires on the senate floor is not nearly so important as what goes on in the conference and committee rooms, yet I do feel that the past two weeks' experience has been tremendously worth while, and that every student of history would find it worth all the time and patience required to sit through hours of debate and "oratory" to acquire some adequate knowledge of how our senate functions, (or performs?) at least in public.

I am hoping I shall have something of special interest and value to contribute to our United States History library in the way of an interesting document, which may, I hope prove to be the beginning of the founding of a historical archive. In a small way, for our splendid library which is second to none for a high school the size of ours.

Hoping that at some time every, especially young, American may experience an extended visit to the Capital and to Congress, I am,

Respectfully Yours,

ELSIE FERGUSON CALVIN.

Mercer Scouts Will Honor Paul Siple

MERCER, Pa., July 25.—Plans call for one of the most gala occasions in the history of scouting in this district, when Boy Scouts from all surrounding counties join with those at Camp Klondashawa, Mercer county Boy Scout camp, in honoring Scout Paul A. Siple on "Paul Siple Day," Thursday, July 31.

Mercer county scout officials are at work on arrangements for the day. There will be a full program of sports including swimming, diving and archery with prizes in each event. Several bands and drum corps will take part in the program and those in charge are making preparations to accommodate the large crowd expected.

Pennsylvania State Police in command of Corporal Marcus White, of Mercer, will form an escort of honor for Scout Siple and take part in the activities of the day. The Pennsylvania State Police were honor guard in the triumphal march of the Erie scout to the welcome in his home city.

Scout Siple will be at the camp, situated three miles east of the Sharon-Greenville road, in the afternoon and evening, and will give an address telling of his experiences with the Byrd party.

Those times when Constipation is so awfully depressing

Here is sincere advice for women too sensible to take drastic drugs.

CONSTIPATION is always a condition to be rid of quickly and thoroughly.

There are times when an intestinal tract clogged up with waste, can be unusually disturbing and distressing. Thousands have found this to be true; any doctor can confirm it.

Women of all ages have found Flaxolyn a pleasant and effective aid to bring about gentle elimination. When Constipation threatens before or during this sensitive period, it will be well worth while to rely on Flaxolyn.

Rich in air-dried herbs
Flaxolyn's herbs are effectively combined with highly approved vegetable extracts, bile salts and organic medicinals.

Flaxolyn's mild action on the intestinal canal is derived from such potent herbs as Spanish Licorice, Aloes from Barbados Islands, "Sacred Bark" from California, Dandelion Roots, Senna Leaves from Arabia. Flaxolyn also is a mild diuretic to the kidneys, thanks to its African Buchu and Uva Ura. This gentle stimulating action holds added benefits to many.

FLAXOLYN

For your own sake, do not delay... get Flaxolyn today. You do not risk a penny. Tear out this clipping. Hand it to your druggist, who makes this offer.

If Flaxolyn does not bring you a satisfactory improvement by the 6th pleasant spoonful, return the unused bottle and get your money back! This certainly is an honest offer that shows the great confidence we have in Flaxolyn.

Government To Start Daily Check Of U. S. Radio Broadcasting

Federal Radio Commission To Inaugurate Work In September

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 25.—Inauguration of a daily system of checking the operations of all American radio broadcasting stations, to check technical violations conducive to interference, will be made with the placing in operation of the new federal monitoring station at Grand Island, Nebraska, in September, according to Commissioner Harold A. LaFount of the Federal Radio Commission.

This station, which has been termed the "master radio traffic cop", will have a range over the entire radio spectrum, and will be able to check the operations of stations the world over. It is located in the approximate geographic center of the nation. The radio commission plans to get daily reports by radio from Grand Island regarding the operations of all stations in the United States under its jurisdiction, particularly of instances of "wobbling" of stations, or deviation of transmitters from their assigned frequencies.

With this information immediately available, LaFount declares, the commission will be able to take action against offending stations. In this manner, he believes, vastly improved reception largely free of avoidable interference will accrue.

The Grand Island apparatus is more than 200 times as sensitive as the ordinary home receiving set. Three types of receivers are installed, two to cover ranges from 100 to 20,000 kilocycles and the third from 10 to 100 kilocycles.

Buckley's Friends Build Up Defense

Slain Radio Announcers Friends Take Up Defense For Late Popular Young Man

(International News Service)
DETROIT, July 24.—Friends of the slain Gerald E. Buckley, popular radio announcer, who is charged by police with using his broadcasting station for blackmailing and extortion purposes, came to his defense Thursday.

Foremost among them was Robert Cokman, millionaire politician and real estate broker. He highly praised the character of Buckley, who was shot and killed as he sat in the lobby of the LaSalle Hotel here Wednesday.

Meanwhile, Police Commissioner Thomas Wilcox said he would make public tonight an affidavit from a former bootlegger that he paid Buckley $4,000 "hush money" to prevent Buckley from broadcasting his activities.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Marksmanship of that popular figure of the nation while the divorce courts are moving with steady and remarkable increase, it was disclosed today in the latest analysis of marriage and divorce by the census bureau.

Although the divorce problem has stirred writers and craters for years, the true situation is described even more vividly in the statistics compiled by the census bureau, with little comment.

Divorces Increase
The bureau, in its new report, has been able to bring figures up to and including 1928, but the trend shown in the report indicates a sharp drop in marriages during 1930 with divorce still on the increase.

Marriage, the bureau finds, varies markedly with the trend of economic conditions. The stock crash of last fall and the resultant slowing down of business, by all signs, will deal Dan Cupid a hard blow.

The marriage report of the bureau shows:

During 1928 the number of marriages per 1,000 population fell to 9.85, the lowest figures since 1918 when the call to colors in the World War wrecked matrimonial plans of many.

years since marriage figures were first compiled in 1887.

There is every indication that the number of marriages decrease in 1929 and will further decrease in 1930 on the other hand.

The divorce rate per 1,000 population rose to 1.63 in 1928, the highest figure since 1937.

The divorce rate per 1,000 marriages rose from 5.5 in 1887 to 13.6 in 1928, the most rapid case being from 1919 to 1928.

There were 195,939 divorces in 1928 compared to 1,182,497 marriages.

Marriage Varies
The popularity of marriage varies in different sections of the country, the institution being most stable in the east south central section, embracing Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi, where the largest rate report is 12.94 per 1,000 population.

It is only slightly less in the west south central, including Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas. The Mountain States of the West, the Pacific Coast, South Atlantic States, and the Middle Western States follow in order.

Marriage in the Middle Atlantic States of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, is less than the average for the country. In the first group the average is 8.37 and in New England, 7.23, compared to the national rate of 9.85.

The divorce picture, however, is almost the opposite. The divorce rate exceeds the national average in the Middle West, in the Mountain States and on the Pacific Coast, while it falls under the national average in New England and the Middle Atlantic States. It also is under the average in South Atlantic States, because South Carolina is the lone state in the Union which does not permit divorce.

Croton Church Has Full Day At Lakewood

Annual Picnic Of The Croton Avenue Methodist Church Is "Heap Big" Success

Never in the annals of the Croton Avenue Methodist church have the members turned out in such large numbers as they did Thursday when over 500 gathered at Lakewood beach. It just seems that when Croton church does anything, they do not do it by halves, the congregation as one person, enters into the project, no matter what it is, and wholeheartedly take an active part; of course, leadership is required in these events and in the pastor, Rev. Clifford S. Joshua, they have one of the finest leaders that can be found. He is untiring in his efforts to build the church both spiritually, recreationally and socially, and to be sure, he is making a success of his undertaking.

A program of sports began at 2 p. m. Thursday and continued "far into the night," according to a popular saying.

Sports of All Kinds.
There were sports for the children the in-betweeners and the grown ups and not an idle moment was had by any one in attendance and the merchants of the town fully cooperated by donating the lovely prizes for the winners in the various contests.

In the children's prizes were won by Bobby Pyle, Phyllis James, Albert Kelly, Doris McClelland, Dorothy Erk, Charles Sizer, Arthur McEwen, Betty Joshua and Albert Grossman. The balloon race winner was Bobby Pyle; the cracker contest, Frank Ramsey; the lemon race, Dorothy Doerr; the bean race, Mary Crisell; the paddle race, Nellie Bilger; baseball throw, Mildred Earhart; balloon blowing, Albert Kelly; three-legged race, Thomas Twaddle and Charles Sizer; needle threading, Omar Fink; nail driving, Margaret Minner; peanut hunt, Raymond Sizer.

The older folks, not to be outdone by the younger members, entered into the contests with zest and the horse shoe pitching contest was won by Jessie Beck, James Blaine, Jr. and Harry Lehman; the penny contest was won by Eleanor Jessup; the bead contest by Schuler; the cow-calling contest, which evoked so much merriment that the contestants had a hard time to keep the laugh from their voices, was won by Mrs. Earl Cook.

Water Sports.
An event of the afternoon was the water spot, in which a great many participated and prizes were won by Billy Bilger, Arthur McEwen and Ruth Kelly, Mrs. Bert James and Don Switzer.

The ladies events were a source of amusement that kept the crowd in an uproar when Mildred Earhart won the rolling pin throwing contest, Mrs. J. Shaffer the prohibition race, Mrs. Thomas Armstrong the nail driving, Mrs. Smith the potato race, Frances Smith the balloon race and Mrs. Bert James the rolling pin race.

The men, not to be outdone, next entered upon their contest with the result that Ed Smith won the fat men's race, John Earhart the 100-yard dash, Clarence Reiber the balloon contest and also a racing dash, Bob Mitchell the candle race, Russell Gormley won the bean race as well as the broad jump and Ed Milliken won in the balloon blowing contest.

Singing Contest.
The feature of the evening and the closing event of the day was the singing contest held for members of the intermediate and junior departments of the church, which was judged by Mrs. Clarence Pyle, Mrs. Amelia Buxton and Clarence Reiber. The prizes in this contest were well worth the efforts of the contestants for two violins with five free lessons, and a piano were donated the winners by Earl Williams of the Smith-Williams Institute of Music. Those winning violins were Thomas Twaddle and Rubetta Rowan, while the winner of the piano was Doris McClelland.

The success of the affair was due to the chairman in charge of the various departments, which were under the direction of Mrs. Russell Gormley, the general chairman.

Mrs. Clarence Pyle had charge of the children's events, Leona Nolan the events for women, Harry Lackey arranged the men's contests, John Earhart looked after the horse shoe pitching, Vane Johns saw that the mushroom went forward without a hitch while Don Switzer and Lewis West attended the swimming arrangements.

Charles Benson & Sons To Build Sidewalks

When members of council met in formal meeting at the City building today they awarded to Charles Benson & Sons a contract for the construction and repair of several sidewalks in various parts of the city at a bid of 17 cents per square foot. The recommendation was made by Harry Moore, commissioner of streets. Three other firms made the same bid.

Company K Will Meet This Evening

All members of Company K, Sons of Union Veterans Reserve, are expected to be in attendance this evening at a meeting to be held in the Sons of Union Veterans Hall, City Building. The members of the company are urged to be on hand at eight p. m. There are matters of real importance to every member, to be brought up at this meeting.

Census returns show 93 American cities have passed the 100,000 mark. But also there remain quite a few places worth living in.—The Ann Arbor Daily News.

SEVEN DERBY FLIERS IN $40,000 PRIZE RACE

These seven fliers were all still very much in the all-American baby plane aerial derby when the fourteen aviators remaining in the contest landed at Cincinnati. Herman Hamer, of Chicago, 2nd, and from lower left, led the field, and Lee Gehlbach, who was first to New York, came in second. L. B. Bayers was third. The race will take ten days in all and the winner will be rewarded with a $40,000 prize. The fliers expect to cover 7,000 miles all over the United States.

Patrolmen Painstakingly Patrol To Prevent Pesky Pest's Entrance

(International News Service)
NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 25.—Uniformed patrols are on duty day and night along the Boston Post road from the New York state line to New Haven and along all roads leading from that territory seeking to prevent possible spread of the Japanese beetle.

All motorists are stopped, and must give up all flowers, fruit, vegetables and plans unless certificates of inspection are produced. Stations have been set up beyond the patrol zone to furnish certificates without charge.

APPROVE BOND
Bond in the sum of $1,000, of Miss Sarah Boyle, stenographer to the city solicitor, has been presented, it was reported during council session today.

Grange Plans For Fair Week

The Westfield Grange met Monday July 21, with 60 in attendance. A program of games and stunts took place during the grange hour conducted by Mrs. J. B. Hund. Miss Elizabeth Wallace and Guy M. Fullerton, followed by a business session.

The committee in charge of the Grange exhibit for the New Castle Fair have things in shape and with the co-operation of everyone, it will be one of the most successful ever held. At the close of the meeting, watermelon was served by the lecturer, assisted by Mrs. B. E. Goughler and Mrs. Merie Leslie.

Plans have been started for a weiner roast which will feature the night meeting instead of the usual program. At this time, all members will bring their exhibits to the Grange Hall where they will be taken from there to the fair grounds on the following day.

The committees in charge of the weiner roast comprise Dale McCurley, Francis Leslie, David A. Byler, who will prepare the roasting apparatus; W. S. Fullerton, Mrs. B. E. Goughler, John F. Miller are in charge of the eats and the Rev. R. M. Haverfield, Dr. E. L. Vincent and Howard Gilmore will arrange a program.

New Castle Group Going To Outing

A party of New Castle young people, representing the four United Presbyterian churches of the city, will go to Allola Park, back of Rochester, tonight for the first annual outing of the Beaver Valley Young People's Christian Union. A large attendance is expected.

The park is situated on route 68, leading from Rochester to Zelenople. Dyak women urge their husbands, sons and lovers to join in head-hunting expeditions, to prove that they are really men of valor.

For that matter, the world will make a beaten path to your door if you invent a better sucker trap.

Payments To Wife Revoked By Order

Hearing was held before Judge James A. Chambers this morning in the case of Bertha Carr against Frank Carr. This was a non-support case in which an order was made in 1928 under which Carr was to pay his wife $5 per week. It was claimed that he had defaulted in payments for some time. The evidence developed some peculiar conditions, which Carr claimed justified his refusing further payments. At the close of the hearing the court made an order revoking the $5 payments.

Less Newsprint Produced In 1930

Production Is Mid-Way Between That Of Last Year And The Preceding Year

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 25.—Production of newsprint paper in North America during the first six months of this year was midway between that in the same periods of 1928 and 1929, being 23,000 tons less than in 1929 and 24,000 tons more than in 1928, according to a survey of the National Industrial Conference Board.

Newsprint paper production during the 1930 period under review totaled 2,118,000 tons, which output, with the exception of the first six months of 1929, is the highest of any year on record.

Mill shipments, however, were in somewhat less volume than production, and on June 30 of this year stocks were 26,000 tons more than on June 30, 1929, but 13,000 tons less than on June 30, 1928.

Newspaper advertising in 30 leading cities during the first six months of the current year was nine per cent less in volume than during the first six months of 1929, and five per cent less in volume than during the first six months of 1928.

On the other hand, periodical advertising, while nearly six per cent less during the first seven months of 1930 than during the first seven months of 1929, was two per cent more in volume than during the same period in 1928.

Palmer Plans To Return To West Point This Fall

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., July 25.—Frederick Palmer, star football player of the Westminister College football team two years ago and member of the plebe class at the United States Military Academy last year, will reenter West Point the latter part of August according to information received here.

Palmer, who passed all his work but mathematics at the academy, was one of the group of plebes dropped last spring. He tutored in mathematics in a private school in New York City for three months, took the examination, passed it, and will do the cadet uniform again next month.

Following his successful examination, Palmer spent the summer traveling through the south and southwest. He is now in Houston, Texas, working for the Public Realty Company until he reports at West Point. Announcement that he would return to the Army end rumors to the effect that Palmer would report to Coach "Dike" Beede when the Westminister grid camp opens September 1.

Withdraws Team From Legion Race

Manager Of Grove City Boys
Withdraws Team After Protest By Sharpville Post

GROVE CITY, July 25.—After it was learned that one of the players on the Grove City Legion junior baseball team was over the age limit and a protest had been filed by the manager of the Sharpville team, Manager H. M. Carruthers of the junior team immediately announced the withdrawal of the Grove City team from the 28th congressional district contest after the local team had practically won the championship. The local team was to play Franklin last Monday evening did opinion of the fans, they would have gone to Williamsport where they would have entered the sectional finals. Manager Carruthers at once canceled the game with Franklin and announced the withdrawal of his team.

PASTOR IS ILL
Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Black were in Bridgeville yesterday where they visited Rev. Robert Kingan, who has been seriously ill in the home of his sister in that place. According to Mr. and Mrs. Black, Rev. Kingan's condition is considered serious and his many Grove City friends will be sorry to hear of his illness.

ENJOY MOTOR TRIP
Mr. and Mrs. Lester Williamson and Misses Hazel and Jean Williamson are enjoying a motor trip through the Finger Lake district of New York state and Watkins Glenn.

ON VACATION TRIP
Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Clarkson and son Harold left this morning by motor for a two weeks vacation in Chicago and Milwaukee. While in Chicago, Mr. Clarkson will purchase his fall and winter furniture stock for his local store.

Vacationists Turning To Quiet Places, Says
Motor Club President

State parks have now been established in two-thirds of the states and a steady increase in acreage, as well as the opening of these areas to travel has made outdoor play places available for those unable to travel the distance to the national parks, according to W. R. Bolsinger, president of the New Castle Motor club, which is affiliated with the American Automobile association.

Mr. Bolsinger pointed out that the urge to vacation in quiet retreats is steadily growing stronger and hotels and inns away from the beaten paths report an increasing business. "This is largely attributable," he said, "to the desire of car owners to avoid heavily-traveled highways and also to the fact the secondary and county roads are being constantly improved and provide excellent arteries of travel."

"At the same time, the radio and other modern conveniences are now found in these out-of-the-way places and the vacationist no longer loses contact with the outside world."

Picnic Committee To Meet Saturday

Will Complete Arrangements
For Big V. F. W. Picnic At Cascade Park Wednesday

Members of the special picnic committee of the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will meet in the Legion Home Association building, Saturday evening to complete arrangements for their big picnic at Cascade Park on Wednesday, July 30.

Final details in the plans will be worked out at this time and a full attendance of the members of the committee is requested.

105 Fish Cost Fisherman $534.50

(International News Service)
SALEM, N. H., July 25.—Here's the kind of a fish story a lot of fishermen would like to tell—but not with the same experience.

T. J. Chabot, Nashua fisherman, was arraigned in district court and paid a fine of $534.50, for having caught 145 horn pout, this was 105 more than the law in New Hampshire allows.

Judge Wallace Hall fined Chabot $5 for each fish a total of $525 which with $9.50 for court cost added brought the total to $534.50 and goes to prove that fishing is also an expensive sport.

Keeping Quorum Together Has Been Senate's Worry During Naval Pact Debate

Central Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, July 25.—Keeping a quorum together has been the majority's principal worry all through the extra session's debate in the U. S. senate over the London naval treaty. The majority started off with plenty of votes to ratify the treaty. There were sure enough of that.
To ratify a treaty takes two-thirds, but the two-thirds were available from the first—as soon as they could be cast. The problem was to arrive at a show-down. With a two-thirds majority, or more, in the treaty's favor, it may seem as if this ought to have been easy—but under the senate rules, a lot of things look easy that are not.

Unless the Senate decides otherwise, each Senator is entitled, once he starts to talk, to discuss any pending measure for as long as he likes. This means that a very small group of them can stall off a vote on any given proposition almost indefinitely, by taking oratorical turns.
The house of representatives long ago put a time limit on speeches but the house has no voice in ratifying treaties.

The senate also can adopt cloture and occasionally it does, but it is very unwilling to do so. It takes great pride in unlimited debate. In the matter of the naval treaty, for instance, many senators, who were anxious from the outset, to vote for the treaty, nevertheless would have voted against curtailing speech-making concerning it.

The minority initial strategy was to continue speaking until the wearied majority dwindled below the required number to hold legal sessions at all.

NORMAL HEALTH RESTORED

Thanks Ten Herbs Medicine for Wonderful Relief

"For years my entire system was in a terrible state. My stomach was weak and food did not digest properly, but I was contented, causing gas which brought bloating and distress. My liver was sluggish, causing dizzy spells. I suffered from constipation, usually felt weak and without ambition. My dentist recommended Ten Herbs to me as a system cleaner. It was like a miracle how my general health improved after using Ten Herbs. It went right to the source of my trouble and restored a normal state of health. My stomach has been fine ever since. I feel stronger and full of ambition. Am glad to recommend Ten Herbs to other sufferers."—Mr. Peter Gosselin, 23 E. Hooker St., Springfield, Mass.

MILLER'S ANTI-PAIN OIL
Formerly known as
STOPS PAIN
From coast to coast men and women are singing the praise of Anti-Pain Oil. It is the most powerful, penetrating, pain-relieving liniment. It will penetrate the thickest sole leather in a few minutes. Mrs. E. Werner, New Orleans, La., writes: "Thanks to your wonderful penetrating oil, it relieved me of Rheumatism and deep-seated cold after other remedies failed."
"I had rheumatism so bad I had to walk on crutches for nine years," says H. C. Hendrix, old soldier of Minneapolis, Minn. "After three months' treatment with Anti-Pain Oil, I laid off my crutches and now can walk like a boy."
J. B. Moore, Pittsburgh, Pa., railroad man, says: "Anti-Pain Oil is the only liniment that ever gave me relief from rheumatism. I use it regularly after being exposed to bad weather." For rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago, stiff joints, pain in back and limbs, corns, bunions, chest colds, sore throat, "Anti-Pain Oil" is said to be without an equal.
Refuse imitations. Nothing like the original. Sold in 75 cent bottles. Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc.

is money well spent

- The few cents extra you pay for Pennzoil Ethyl will mean money in your pocket in the long run. Because:
- You are sure of greater mileage. Your car, whether old or new, will run better, smoother, have more power and pep and a faster getaway. You will no longer labor up steep hills or over heavy roads. "Knocking" is eliminated.
- Pennzoil Ethyl means fewer valve-grindings and carbon-removals. You keep dollars in your pocket.
- Use Pennzoil Ethyl and avoid gummy deposits, clogged screens or carburetors. That's because the base gasoline is a mighty clean gasoline. Your car will prove the difference.

Down-And-Outs Still Cling To Bowery

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 25.—An announcement by the welfare council reveals that the homeless men of the Bowery have not left for the summer as usual, this year, but have been augmented by thousands of jobless from other parts of nation. In place of the customary summer letup, charitable shelters along "the street of forgotten men" are now housing more than during an ordinary winter. Nine agencies recently provided 43,399 night lodgings in one month, a record figure.

COUNTY COMMITTEE MEETS
The meeting of the executive committee of the Republican County Committee was largely attended on Tuesday evening and the following officers were elected: G. G. Forquer of Grove City, chairman; W. R. Poole of Hickory Township, secretary; L. R. Rickard named Mrs. Ethel Young of West Salem Township assistant secretary to the committee.

A grocer's clerk of the same name may have forced Senator George W. Norris off the Republican ticket in Nebraska, but as a matter of fact Norris has not been much of a Republican at any stage of the game. If he runs again as an independent he will be about where he belongs.

GIRL, 19, COMMANDS BARGE
Britain's youngest woman skipper has just been found in 19-year-old Lizzie Meadows, who runs a barge in the Grand Junction canal in England and handles it like a veteran. When she was 18 her parents died, and she was left to fight her own way in the world and bring up a younger brother and sister. Lizzie has been a cripple since childhood.

Bo Broadway

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

NEW YORK, July 25.—The canine in New York is fast becoming a slave of fashion. He has his sweater, his raincoat and jeweled collar or harness and now they've opened a shop in the Flunking Forties, where Feedo may be manicured, massaged, plucked, singed, reduced, violet-rayed, curled, crimped and otherwise operated upon in the fair name of Beauty.

For a dawg to be perfumed and polished costs three times as much as it does for a woman to have almost the identical service performed.

A shampoo for Towser runs from $3.50 to $15; manicure and permanent wave, $15; reducing, $50; singeing, $2; brow plucking, $1; teeth brushing, $2; violet ray $10.

The price list may look a trifle extreme, but remember, it takes three men over an hour to shampoo a bone polisher. And if you think it's a cinch conferring a manicure on a Great Dane, try it some time.

QUEEN MARY'S LID.

The Fourth of July is just passed. Labor Day is still many a league distant, but already they've begun in Tammany Tower to worry about Fall Fashions.

I encountered Longacre Lil the other evening on the veranda of a Wayside Inn in Westchester. She was sitting with her chin buried in her palm staring at the full moon with the faraway look of a stuffed weasel.

She was much perturbed, she told me, by advance intelligence that the Queen Mary Lid is to be revived in the Autumn.

"That means, I suppose," she sighed, "that we're in for a dreary siege of respectability in headgear."

I soothed her as best I could, extending the assurance that her perturbation lacked valid cause.

"If you'll closely observe Queen Mary's next appearance in the new-reel," I told her, "you'll note it isn't the Lid that dignifies Mary. It's Mary who dignifies the Lid."

TIME:

For years an old Dutch watchmaker has been conducting a 2 by 4 clock shop on West Street, near the Cortlandt Street Ferry. He gathers queer timepieces from the four quarters of the globe, and his collection of over seventy years fills to overflowing the shelves and showcases of the dingy little shop.

For forty years the paving stones outside his diminutive place of business have re-echoed to the harried tread of commuters. No one knew anything about him, his place or his marvelous collection of clocks and watches.

The other day a goggle-eyed reporter, on business in the neighborhood, spotted the shop, conducted a narrow gauge investigation and returning to his City Room, ran an interview with the little horologist and a description of "the quaint hole-in-the-wall."

Now the place is besieged by collectors, the curious and Assorted Nuts and the ancient watchmaker is preparing to pack up and move off to some out-of-the-way and, therefore, more fortunate location.

HOME, SWEET HOME.

In contrast to the old clock maker's philosophy, we have that of Helen Morgan, who returned the other day from a brief sojourn abroad and, immediately upon landing, settled down upon the top of a piano for a nice, homey talk.

"Lessen," quoth The Little Girl in Black. "I went to Monte Carlo. I patronized the night clubs in Berlin. I took a little hop to Africa and then tried an apartment in Paris—the gay capital of France, the inhabitants of which are fond of light wines and dancing."

"Take it from Helen, brother they're all cemeteries compared to N'Yawk. There's somethin' about the crowd here that you don't find anywhere else on earth—an' I'm glad to be back."

UNKNOWN MODEL.

A lot of New York artists have been scouring Paris for the trail of the unknown model who forty-eight years ago, with right arm upraised, posed for sculptor Frederic Auguste Bartholdi while he chiseled out the Statue of Liberty.

No one in Paris has the slightest idea who she was. The Bartholdi family know nothing of her. The master employed so many models no one kept track of them.

If the woman who posed for the classical figure at the entrance to New York Harbor were still alive, she'd be in the neighborhood of seventy years of age.

The sentimental New Yorkers flashed their searchlights into many a garret in Paris, interviewing numerous ancient and toothless models, but without a trace of the woman they sought. Thus she will pass into history famed merely as The Unknown Model.

GEORGIA TOBACCO GOES ON MARKET IN FEW WEEKS

(International News Service)
ATLANTA, Ga., July 25.—The 1930 Georgia tobacco season will open on July 29.

Early indications point to a record opening day sale on the score or more markets in the South Georgia Belt. The Georgia market is the first to open in the southeast, and the prices which prevail here will be somewhat of an indication of the prices that will be obtained on the markets opening later in the summer.

According to the state Bureau of Agricultural Economics, Georgia's tobacco acreage this year shows a 10 per cent increase over the 110,000 acres planted last year, or 121,000 acres.

However the 1930 production will be slightly under last year's mark of 89,870,000 pounds, according to the bureau. The 1930 estimate is 88,330,000 pounds.

Other belts in the Southeast open as follows:
South Carolina Belt—August 5.
Eastern North Carolina—September 2.

Middle Belt (North Carolina)—September 23.
Old Belt (North Carolina)—September 30.
Dark Belt (Virginia)—November 4.

Rykoff Appointed As Ambassador By Soviet Government

(International News Service)
BERLIN, July 25.—Alexis Rykoff, premier of Soviet Russia who was reported to have resigned his post, has been appointed ambassador to Berlin, advices from Kovno stated.

Rykoff in recent months has repeatedly clashed with Josef Stalin over policies of state, giving rise to numerous reports that the "Iron-man" of the central executive committee intended ousting the premier from his post and from the party. At the conclusion of the All-Russian congress a few days ago, however, it was announced that Rykoff had again won the good graces of his colleagues and secured continuation of the premiership.

After all, perhaps the supreme test of true love is to watch her eating corn on the cob.

Former Resident Receives Degree

Rev. T. D. Rees, Well Known Here, Highly Honored By Doctor Of Divinity Degree

Rev. Thomas D. Rees, a well-known former resident of New Castle, and now pastor of the First Baptist church in Cambridge, Pa., was honored recently when the degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon him at the commencement exercises of Webster University, Atlanta, Ga., in recognition of original work done in theology and presented to the University.

Rev. Rees is the brother of Arthur J. Rees, E. Washington street. He has many friends in this city and during his residence here was a member of the Emmanuel Baptist church. He has been pastor of the Baptist church in Cambridge for the past 17 years. He is a graduate of Doane Academy, prep school for Denison University. He then graduated from Denison in 1909, representing that school as orator and reader. He chose a career as a minister and attended Rochester from which he graduated in 1912.

Rev. Rees is the third Cambridge minister to receive this honorary degree in the past two years.

Ohio State Students Give Religious Beliefs

(International News Service)
COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 25.—If college students are as ungodly as some of their self-appointed critics would like to make the world believe, the census of 14,495 students, who attended Ohio State University here during the 1929-1930 school year, does not bear out their contention.

The annual report which was recently made by the registrar of the university shows that 11,764 students professed membership in one or another of 51 sects or denominations. Eighty-two per cent of the students reported a religious preference of one kind or another.

Although it is non-denominational, Ohio State had more Methodist students than the largest Methodist college in Ohio, more Presbyterians than the two Presbyterian church institutions and more Catholics than any Catholic college or university in the state.

Attempts To Halt Runaway Auto, Injured

ST. MARYS, Pa., July 25.—Norman Bauer, of St. Marys, suffered three fractured ribs and perhaps other injuries when he tried to halt an unoccupied Ford coupe which started on South street, St. Marys street, and was headed for the gasoline tanks in front of the Oldsmobile garage. The car was the property of H. B. Arnold, and was driven by his brother, Charles, who had parked it in the vicinity of the Franklin hotel. Bauer, who was standing on the porch in front of his place of business rushed to the car, jumped on the running board of the right side and was reaching for the emergency brake when the car struck the fence. He was thrown against the window frame by the impact. He did not seem to suffer any ill effects at first but shortly complained of sharp pains. He is resting well at his home.

Girl Confesses To "Fake" Story

CAMDEN, N. J., July 25.—Fearing to return home after remaining out with her "boy friend" for more than 24 hours, Ruth Kuhnell, 15-year-old beauty of Collingswood Heights, N. J., broke down and confessed that she had concocted the story that she was kidnapped by three men, Sergeant John Bishop, of the New Jersey state police, revealed Thursday.

Moose To Erect Tiny Village For Sons Of Dead Members

(International News Service)
MOOSEHEART, 20 July 25.—A boys' village costing $3,500,000 whose construction will continue over a period of three or four years and which, when completed will provide for the housing, general comfort and schooling of 500 boys, will come up for discussion among the deliberations of the annual convention of the Moose to be held here in July. While no definite legislative action on the project can be taken at the convention, as provided by the by-laws of the fraternity, it is expected that plans for financing the project will be presented and considered.

Mooseheart, situated 35 miles west of Chicago, is the child city of the order where about 2,000 orphans or dependent children of deceased members of the fraternity are given a home, a high school education and instruction in a trade. The child city has grown rapidly and the board of governors, headed by U. S. Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, director general of the Moose, has for some time observed the necessity for physical expansion to meet the growth.

As a result, plans for the new village have been prepared. These call for a plot of 60 acres within the 1,023 acre, park-like estate that comprises Mooseheart. About 25 new buildings will be erected, according to the present proposal, most of which will be two-story cottages housing units of 20 boys each. Surrounding each cottage will be lawns and in the rear will be a vegetable garden with quarters for a home flock of chickens and perhaps rabbits or similar pets. The buildings will be fireproof, constructed of gray Illinois brick with cast stone trimming and red tile roofs. Many thousands of dollars will be saved to the order by having the boys themselves help to build them as part of their training in vocational work. No two buildings will be alike.

The plan, as now on paper, shows the village designed in the form of a rectangle within the enclosure of which are football fields, tennis courts, baseball diamonds and other athletic areas, over a plot of 40 acres, available for wholesome play during the boys' free hours.

Eliminating any suggestion of the usual type of institutional dormitory, each of the cottages will contain a large, well lighted basement in which are a workbench, bicycle rack and other conveniences. The first floor will contain an entrance hall, dining room, kitchen, living room, with quiet room for study adjoining and two rooms for the use of the matron and cook in charge.

The second floor will contain five bedrooms and three and four boys each. Each boy will be provided with a clothes closet in his room. Adequate toilet and bath facilities complete the plan for this floor. The attic will be left unfinished for possible future use.

Furnishings will be plain, but in good taste and substantial. The cost of operating the cottages is expected to be considerably less than if the larger type of dormitories and halls were used.

Mooseheart was founded in 1911 as the materialization of an idea Secretary Davis conceived when he was an iron puddler in the Pennsylvania mills and saw tragedy tear families apart when they were thrust on the questionable graces of public charity. Entire dependent families of the Moose are taken to Mooseheart and kept intact until such time as the individuals, after training in mind and hand in the child city, are able to provide for themselves.

One of the reasons for holding the

COMPENSATION AWARD STANDS

Appeal Of Cleveland Firm Against Award To Andrew E. Thompson Dismissed

HARRISBURG, July 25.—The Workmen's Compensation Board has dismissed an appeal of Yoder Morris Company, Cleveland, from paying compensation to Andrew E. Thompson, 920 East Washington street, New Castle. Thompson filed a petition seeking compensation for disability which he contends arose from an injury while in the employ of the company.

Referee Christley after hearing testimony in the case awarded compensation. The company filed an appeal. Thompson was employed by a man who had a contract with the company. While installing an electrical operated door for the Lawrence Automobile Company he was injured for which compensation was awarded.

Many Coaches Plan To Attend School

(International News Service)
FRANKFORT, Ind., July 25.—More than 100 basketball coaches from Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and Kentucky have signified their intentions to attend the Frankfort Basketball School here August 25 to 30.

Justin M. Barry, basketball coach at the University of Southern California, will lead the school. The school will be assisted by Paul (Tony) Hinkle, basketball mentor at Butler University, Indianapolis.

School sessions and demonstrations will be conducted at both morning and afternoon sessions by some of the most outstanding basketball coaches of America colleges and high schools.

The high school staff will be composed of veteran Indiana high school coaches whose terms have won championships of the Hoosier state at various times, including Clifford Wells of Logansport, Glenn Curtis of Martinsville, Everett Case of Frankfort, Burl Fiddle of Washington, Ind. and John L. Adams of Vincennes.

Grim Walls of N. Y. Prison Bar Bogus Peer's Freedom

His Trail of Deception Checked, "Lord Francis," in Dreary Tombs, Boasts of His Love Conquests in the United States.

F.W. HARLAND-EDGECOMB

The Tombs, New York's most famous prison, is now doing quite a carriage trade. For besides sheltering within its grim walls the Archduke Leopold of Austria, it is giving cell room to Francis Willis Harland-Edgcomb, said to be a scion of a prominent English family and known to Park Ave. and various doting dowagers as "Lord Duprez" or "Viscount Beauchamp."

When Edgcomb arrived in New York in 1928 in the capacity of secretary to Lady Sholto Douglass, one of Britain's wealthiest women, his dapper appearance and perfect manners, together with his employer's social prestige soon gained him entry into some of the most exclusive homes on Park Ave. After the return of Lady Douglass from Washington, she released her debonair secretary, as it is believed that officials of the British embassy had acquainted her with her servant's prison record which includes several English prisons. Not wishing to let her friends know that she had been duped, she left the country and the noble Harland-Edgcomb to continue his explorations into the drawing rooms and boudoirs of leading members of New York society.

Using the name of Howard Norton, Edgcomb obtained employment with Everett Vincent Currier, a publisher, and as rushing charming "debbies" with expensive tastes, is difficult on a limited income, the dapper Englishman brought out his book of rubber checks and released some in the direction of his employer. But until he was arrested on the larceny charge, he was going strong with some of the best known people in New York.

He claims to have won the heart of several prominent members of the younger set of various cities. But, the authorities declare that he will have to leave all these charming friends and experiences behind him, for, as soon as the latest charge is disposed of, deportation proceedings will quickly follow. Until then, Edgcomb, who declares "that it is all a beastly mistake," is expected that some of his erstwhile friends will help him out of "the most beastly awful mess." For Welfare Island and the Tombs isn't quite the nicest phase of New York life.

THE FUTURE FARMER Boys ought to look well to the farm as a career. Next generation's farmers are going to be richer than today's. Study the lowly cornstalk. Paper can be made of cornstalks, and now comes the announcement that cornstalks yield a substance like hard rubber. It will do the work of hard rubber. A whole new set of values is likely to be built up for farm crops before the century is much older.

CHURCH FOLKS

In the past year the Methodists lost members. Baptists gained. So did Presbyterians and Lutherans. Catholics gained also. Despite their loss, the Methodist is still the largest Protestant denomination, with the Baptists almost neck and neck. Together these two denominations have a few more members than the Roman Catholic church. All of which means little, interesting to some as the figures may be.

Philadelphia's Huge Stadium Cost City $200,000 Annually

By E. L. RAWLEY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 25.—Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium, the "White Elephant" of the Sesqui Centennial of 1925-26, is still a losing investment as far as the city is concerned. In fact, now more than four years after its completion, it costs Philadelphians about $200,000 annually.

The memorable first meeting of Dempsey and Tunney, one rainy night in late September of '26, was the only time in the history of the huge pile of concrete, steel and brick, that the horseshoe shaped stadium ever came anywhere near paying the yearly expenditures. That night over $170,000 as rental but none of this went towards bearing the expenses and construction cost of the stadium as it was paid to the Sesqui-Centennial Association which managed the huge exhibition that cost the city more than $20,000,000.

Located far in the southeast section of the city in the law-lying swampy region along the Delaware River, financial experts believe it will be years yet before a sufficient income will be derived from the giant structure to pay the $170,000 annually required to meet the 50-year 4-1-2 per cent bonds used to finance the construction costs and the $25,000 annual upkeep bill. This year only about $3500 has been obtained so far in rentals from various events held in the stadium. However, with Villanova College regular "home" football field,

In the hopes of changing the "white elephant" into a paying proposition Dr. George W. Orton, was appointed director of the stadium at a salary of $10,000 annually and with an office in city hall, but to date the director has not been able to take in sufficient income to pay his salary and that of his staff.

The stadium is used, however, for several events that are non-paying propositions, but Dr. Orton says the city benefits indirectly from the affairs. Several are carried for the future including the French Bastille Day celebration there July 14th; Colored Knights Templars celebration August 9th; Spanish-American War Veterans celebration August 19th and an Italian celebration October 13th.

The paying propositions are chiefly boxing and wrestling matches, and bicycle races. The races are held each week while a boxing bout and wrestling match are staged once each month. Ordinarily the stadium has a seating capacity of about 80,000 but this can be enlarged to seat more than 100,000. Rickard crammed 142,000 into the place for his Dempsey-Tunney bout.

An effort was made last year to book the world series games here between the Cubs and Athletics in the stadium, but the plan fell through when it was found the field was just 50 feet too narrow for the right field section although the night ball games are being held in the vast concrete horseshoe weekly this summer.

Brython Tells Of Welsh Events

By WILLIAM A. JOINS (BRYTHON)

The service at the Emmanuel Baptist church last Sunday evening, July 20, was full of inspiration from the beginning to the end. The large crowd enjoyed it very much.

Miss Gladys Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Thomas, of Delaware avenue and a school teacher at the public schools of New Castle read the fourth chapter of the gospel of St. Luke and gave an interesting explanation on different parts of the chapter. The audience was blessed through the wonderful reading. Then Deacon D. S. Williams of the First Baptist church and the present moderator of the Beaver Baptist Association led in prayer, asking blessing of God to be with his servant that evening and by this time the servant of the Lord arrived.

Rev. Rees T. Williams, pastor of the First Congregational Church first preached at his own church then came down to the Emmanuel church and delivered a splendid sermon. He spoke on the Burning Bush.

At the end of his sermon the large audience gave him a standing vote of thanks for his great and interesting sermon.

D. S. Williams spoke also at the service giving all the encouragement to the members of the church to go on conquering. The singing was full of inspiration with Miss Hannah Jones, granddaughter of Deacon Benjamin Jones, East Reynolds street, at the piano.

A very interesting letter came to hand this week from the radio singer Evans Evans of the city of Chicago. He wants to inform the Welsh people of New Castle that he is a Welshman heart and soul, being born on Crown street, Norristown, near Swansea, S. Wales. He left his happy home at Norristown for the United States ten years ago and since then he has been very successful in the world of songs.

The best wishes of the Welsh people and American people as well as that of the city is going with Mrs. L. J. Lewis and her brother Arnold, of Highland ave. on their journey back for a trip to the land of their birth, dear old Wales and very sorry of their sorrows and their bereavement of late, receiving the sad news of the death of their dear and beloved father, then news coming of the illness of their dear mother at Clydach.

Health and success will follow them on sea and land and that they will find their dear mother in better condition than may be expected. God be with them at all times.

News has come from Mr. and Mrs. David J. Owens of Swansea, South Wales, who are over there on their vacation that they are having a great time with their friends over there but the great times are not going to keep them over there. They are arranging to return back to their adopted country, America some time next month.

Mr. Owens will be remembered as the one that boarded with Mr. and Mrs. John Evans of South Mill St. up until last May when he went back to Wales for a trip. So the friends of New Castle will be ready to welcome them back to the city.

Dr. E. Pugh Thomas of Buffalo, N. Y. is kept very busy in Wales where he went a few weeks ago. All the churches over there want to hear him preach about America. Two weeks ago he preached in one of the leading churches of Swansea and at the present time he is touring England and Wales and preaching in each town and city and they respect him as one of the leading preachers of the United States.

A meeting of the Stars of Wales Lodge No. 60, True Iovites of America will be held next Saturday evening July 26, when the new officers will take their office. Past president Evan Hopkins, president Daniel Hughes, Stewart, Treason, Conductor David L. Harris, Inside Guardian David J. Clement, Outside Guardian Joseph Pugh. So these good brothers will look after the welfare of the lodge for the next six months.

The meeting will start at 7:30 o'clock with the roll of officers will be called and each one is expected to answer to his name. Rev. Rees T. Williams, pastor of the First Congregational Church will leave after next Sunday for a one month vacation and on his journey he will visit his former field of labor that is Bangor, Pa. where he has very close friends and while he will be there he will tell the old, old story of Jesus Christ and his love to the people of Bangor, Pa. He is a young man that can visit any place the second and third time because he lives the right kind of a life where ever he is going, success to him.

Plan To Open Avenue For Fair

Rockefellers To Erect New Entertainment Centre

By LAURENCE DUMOND
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 25.—The city of tall buildings is to have another architectural development that will vie with the world's greatest achievements in brick and steel.

It will rise 60 stories in the air over practically six square blocks. It will cost 250 million dollars. And it promises to be the world's most stupendous center of the entertainment arts—the radio, the moving picture, the theatre and later television.

The Rockefeller interests are to finance the mammoth new addition to the city's skyline.

Buildings for three blocks along Fifth avenue next fall are to go the way of all buildings in this city of constant scrapping and continual construction. In 1933 there will tower on the spot the huge new nerve center of entertainment, housing four great theatres, 27 broadcasting studios, some of them three stories in height, shops and new office buildings and possibly a great symphony hall.

Plans for this development have been made public by Rockefeller representatives.

One of the four theatres to be housed here will be devoted to what is termed "a new conception of variety entertainment." Another will be a sound motion picture house, and the third and fourth will be for musical comedy and dramatic productions.

Television is a realization of the near future to the builders of the center. Provisions for practical application of television, as soon as it is developed to a commercial possibility, are to be incorporated into the building. It will not be many years, forecast the backers, before musical comedy and dramatic productions on the screens of theatres will be broadcast in both sound and sight over the radio waves.

Expense will not be spared, it is said, to make the building one of the most beautiful ever constructed. Fronting Fifth avenue the central structure will be a building of moderate height and great beauty of design. On the roof a restaurant will be built, with an outdoor promenade running around the entire building, with a plaza almost as wide as the length of a city block making a most impressive boulevard. Fountains, statuary and garden plots will beautify this promenade.

This new entertainment city within a city is to be the center of underground boulevards that will carry traffic away from the streets and there are to be underground terminals and parking spaces.

Big Difference In North Hill Water Pressure

Chief Lynn Makes Test At Various Hydrants, Showing 55 pounds Variance

There is a big difference in water pressure at various points on the North Hill, according to a test just completed by Fire Chief Charles H. Lynn.

The heaviest pressure is shown in the district around Winter avenue and below Euclid avenue, where the high pressure line recently completed runs. This pressure varies between 90 pounds at Euclid avenue to 105 pounds at Winter avenue.

Only a few blocks away, at Edgewood and Carlisle and at Hazelroft and Albert streets, the pressure is only 50 pounds. This is on a different line.

Good Scores Made At Field Club Shoot

Several fine scores were turned in at the trap shoot held at the Country Club last evening. J. G. Lamoree breaking 49 pigeons out of a possible 50. He also had a straight run of 25

"Katy Did" Name Of Y Camp Lodge

"Katy Did" is the new name for the dining and library lodge which Mrs. Fred L. Rentz donated to the New Castle Y. M. C. A. camp this summer. It was learned in news emanating from the camp today.

The name, suggested by young Robert Muse, was selected as the most appropriate of several submitted by the campers.

In suggesting "Katy Did", Bob said it would be quite fitting inasmuch as Mrs. Rentz' own name is Kate.

The lodge was dedicated a short time ago along with the camp grounds which her husband donated.

INSTALL BUZZER

Modern methods are steadily invading the offices of Lawrence county authorities. The latest victims to feel the effects of modernity are members of the district attorney's office, where a buzzer system is being installed. A series of signals, one for County Detective H. M. Lee, Constable A. S. Leslie and District Attorney John S. Powers, will indicate telephone calls for each one.

If all of the useless words spoken were placed end to end, they would reach some busy man trying to concentrate.

Motoring and bathing accidents were responsible for 186 deaths in France during a recent week-end.

Suffers Concussion Of The Brain But Is Much Improved Today

Master Frank McNees, aged 8 1/2 years, of 210 Milton street, while in a truck at the home of his grandparents in Slippery Rock township Thursday afternoon, was accidentally thrown out backwards and suffered concussion of the brain. He was removed to the New Castle hospital, where X-ray pictures were taken to determine the full extent of his injuries. The pictures disclosed the fact that he has sustained no fracture of the skull and his condition was so much improved today that he was returned to his home.

Czechoslovakia now has only 50,000 unemployed.

Martin Anderson Builds Fine Home

Small Number Of Buildings Being Erected In Ellwood At Present Time

ELLWOOD CITY, July 25.—Back on what will be another smooth green lawn on Connoquenessing Terrace stands the attractive new home of American-English design of architecture owned by Martin Anderson who now lives with his family in Bridge street. The Martin family will move to their new home in September.

The plasterers are now at work and the new home when completed promises to vie with others on the hill in its attractiveness and completeness. Formed of mingled brick cemented together with chocolate mortar, the ivory shutters will send out an invitation of hospitality. The uncovered entrance will have a railing of round iron and will lead into the living room, where we are attracted by the cozy nest of built-in book shelves over the large brick fireplace over which is a broad ledge.

Archways predominate in grouping the rooms on the first floor. The dining room and sun-parlor both lead off from the living room. The kitchen and breakfast nook are both in pearl gray and many cupboards and closet space have found their way into them.

On the second floor, we find four bedrooms one of which is a sleeping porch. The bath-room is in ivory and green tile and contains a large built-in tub. The third floor has been finished into one large room and the basement is fitted with stationary tubs and all laundry equipment, ready for a modern laundry.

The home at 285 Pittsburgh Circle bought from W. E. Renner by D. J. Jones is rapidly taking on the suggestion of a duplex. Mr. Jones has had a kitchen and bath-room added to the house which is a frame structure.

A number of changes have been made in the home interior in order to make it convenient for his son and daughter who will occupy it with their family and husband respectively.

ROCKEFELLER CHEERS OLD LADY

One day John D. Rockefeller, Sr., stopped in his automobile before the cottage of an old lady, Mrs. Cornelia Brinley of Lanoka Harbor, N. J., who inquired, "Is this the Mr. Rockefeller they have been telling me about who is so near my own age?" Rockefeller told her he was born on July 8, 1839, and she declared, "It must be the same one, for I was born just two days later." Since that time the old king has often stopped at her humble cottage, above, giving her five and ten-dollar bills as well as dimes.

W. F. Kegel Entertains Ellwood Rotarians At Club Dinner Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, July 25.—With a large assortment of cartoons, W. F. Kegel kept the Rotarians entertained last night when they conducted their meeting in the dining room of the First Presbyterian church. The chalk talk as presented by Mr. Kegel was both instructive and amusing.

The club members decided at the meeting last night to go to the Fresh Air Camp for their next dinner. District governors of the thirty-third district have called a meeting of the presidents, vice presidents and secretaries of the clubs in that district to meet at the Conneaut Hotel, Conneaut Lake on Monday and Tuesday.

Edward Mackaseck, president of the local club with O. Monroe, vice president and C. P. Cloak, secretary, expect to attend this meeting.

John Ruskovich, manager of the local baseball team was present at the meeting to obtain the support of the club members when the Pittsburgh Pirates arrive here for their game in Ellwood August 4.

The men voted their hearty support to the plan before they adjourned.

Thursday Evening Bridge Club Meets

ELLWOOD CITY, July 25.—Members of the Thursday Evening Bridge Club were entertained at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Hessert of the New Castle road, last night.

Two tables of bridge were in play during the evening with score favors going to Mrs. Frank McKim and Mrs. A. G. Nicklas.

Plans were made for a ham fry to include husbands and families, Friday.

Following the short business meeting the hostess served tempting refreshments.

The club will meet again in two weeks with Miss Zelda Twentier of Fourth street.

ELLWOOD CITY PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Anderson of Bridge street with their two daughters have returned to Ellwood having concluded a motor trip through the northern part of Canada.

Mr. Robert Bushman and Mr. Walter Asper of Koppel left Tuesday evening to camp a week at Milton Dam.

Realty Man Held as Mary Baker's Slayer

Herbert Campbell, Oakcrest, Virginia, real estate man, is charged with the murder of Mary Baker, comely Government worker. The action followed three hours of intensive grilling. Although Campbell admits he is the owner of the bell gun and that he was near the culvert at the time of the shooting, he denies that he committed the crime.

Yes And No Club Meets At Hazens

ELLWOOD CITY, July 25.—Mrs. John Gallagher, a member of the Yes and No Club was given a birthday surprise when Mrs. George Hazen entertained the club at her home in Ellport last night.

Lovely gifts were presented the guest of honor by each club member. The birthday cake with its twinkling candles was a delicate concoction in rose and blue completing the color scheme used throughout the menu.

Mrs. Charles Kettler was awarded the evening's contest favor. Luncheon was served at a late hour by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Jacob Clup.

The club will meet again in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Claire Cummins.

Club members motored to Mt. Cresson last Sunday to visit Mrs. Clara Mathews, whom they found much improved.

Accompanied by Mrs. Mathews they enjoyed a picnic in a nearby grove.

Making the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Claire Cummins, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Haven, Mrs. Merle Wiltrout, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Clup and Miss S. Elder.

Mexico Battles "Easy Payments"

(International News Service) MEXICO CITY, July 25. — At a meeting of the principal merchants of Mexico City it was voted to take energetic steps to discourage installment selling of merchandise. Most merchants held the view that the practice of selling merchandise on "easy payments" increased selling costs, making the costs higher to the buyer than if the buyer paid cash. The federal department of industry commerce and labor has offered its cooperation in combatting the installment selling plan.

World's Fair Clock Will Be Overhauled

Stilled by old age after it excitedly ticked off hours that bridged the eras of the hoop skirt and the flapper, Lawrence county's representative at the Chicago World Fair in 1893, a huge grandfather's clock will throbb with life again—this time in a modern manner.

Dr. Wayne W. Bissell, superintendent of Jameson Memorial hospital where the tall timepiece was removed from the Shenango Valley hospital, says that its movement will be overhauled and fitted to be run electrically.

Historic Clock
The history of the famous clock is a chronicle of master craftsmen of this country who collaborated to fashion a product which became an attraction to visitors from all the world when it was displayed in the Pennsylvania building at the fair. Today, as it stands in silence in the solarium of the Jameson hospital, the evidence of its past glory is recalled by a metal plate attached in front which reads:

"1893, World's Fair clock. Exhibited by the Ladies of Lawrence County, Pa., containing 334 pieces of 20 varieties of Lawrence County timber. Designed by C. C. Thayer architect. Case built by Philo McCaslin. The movement designed and constructed by J. C. Hanna and Son, New Castle, Pa. Presented to Shenango Valley hospital by the Ladies of Lawrence County."

Today, Mrs. Jane A. Martin, wife of Judge J. Norman Martin, is the sole survivor of the 13 women who comprised the World's Fair Auxiliary of Lawrence County. It was Mrs. Martin who suggested the construction of the clock after it was found the proposed gift from Lawrence County some decorated wooden tables were not unusual gifts.

Super Craftsmanship
The county's super craftsmen built the clock upon the proposal of the auxiliary after Wells B. Clendenin as chairman of the World's Fair committee in this county asked for an appropriate gift to the fair. Clendenin was a personal friend of Robert E. Pattison, who was then governor of the state. Mrs. Mary C. Ward of New Castle is a sister who survives Clendenin.

Mrs. J. P. Linville, chairman; Mrs. Robert W. Clendenin, Mrs. Leander Raney, Mrs. Terry Sweeney, Mrs. Elizabeth Rhodes, Mrs. George W. Boyles, Mrs. William H. McCandless, Mrs. W. D. Elliott, Mrs. D. S. Morris, Mrs. James A. Hanna, Mrs. James A. Crawford and Mrs. E. I. Agnew.

Philo McCaslin whose ability as a woodworker had made him famous throughout the country, was given the work of making the wooden case for the clock. Theodore Rohrer a brother of the present Leopold Rohrer, New Castle hardware dealer, constructed the metal works.

The timepiece was shipped by train to Chicago and placed by the Pennsylvania Commission in the state's building. Alexis W. Thompson, the second president of the Republic Iron and Steel Company, who lived in New Castle for many years was in Chicago at the time. When the fair was ended he removed the clock to this city.

Nearly all of the auxiliary visited the fair. The clock proved a real attraction.

Back again in Lawrence county, the timepiece, still proudly rearing its height of 12 feet and nine inches, was donated to the Shenango Valley hospital by the auxiliary. Recently, when the Jameson hospital took over the work of the former, the clock was among the furnishings removed to the newer institution.

Now the old clock will tick again and revive happy days when people saw for the first time an electrical display at the great fair.

The Sphere Of Woman

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not.—Isaiah 35:4.

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

The gist of the Book of Judges may be gotten by combining three of its off-recurring phrases, viz., (1) "The children of Israel did evil again in the sight of the Lord," (2) "and the Lord sold them into the hands of their enemies round about," (3) "and when the children of Israel cried unto the Lord, the Lord raised up a deliverer who delivered them." In the most sickening fashion imaginable, these three phrases, representing widespread national degeneration into idolatry, punishment and deliverance upon repentance, follow one another through seven sad cycles of history. God's people seemed never to profit from their former sad experiences. The burned child persisted in rushing again and again into the same destroying fire of idolatry and sensuality. Our lesson deals with the third of these seven cycles of idolatry and God's punishment of them under the cruel Sisera, and his deliverance of them under Deborah the prophetess, the fourth of the Judges of this period.

ence to reach out into the community, nation and world, to make these wider spheres safe morally, spiritually and otherwise for the children she rears in the home.

Deborah Enlists Co-operation

Deborah showed her wisdom as a leader in her ability to enlist the support and co-operation of such men as Barak, the fifth of the 13 Judges or dictators of this period. Him she inspired to enlist an army of 10,000 soldiers from the two small northern tribes of Naphtali and Zebulun. But Barak pays eloquent tribute to Deborah's strength of character and influence in saying to her, "If thou wilt go with me, then I will go; but if thou wilt not go with me, I will not go."

For which she, pledging her presence, prophesied for him the humiliation of Sisera's "selling Sisera into the hand of a woman," a prophecy fulfilled by Jael with her hammer and tent stakes. Ours is the happy co-operation of both men and women in the pursuits and triumphant achievements of world peace and international good will in which woman must play as full a part as man.

(The International Uniform Lesson for July 27 is Judges 4:1-10, the subject being "Deborah: a Leader in National Emergency," and the Golden Text, "Say to them that are of a fearful heart, be strong, fear not."—Isaiah 35:4.)

Woman Judge

And the children of Israel again did evil in the sight of the Lord—and the Lord sold them into the hand of Jabin, King of Canaan—the captain of whose host was Sisera—and the children of Israel cried unto the Lord—and twenty years he mightily oppressed the children of Israel. And Deborah, a prophetess, the wife of Lapidoth, she judged Israel at that time." Thus it comes about that Jael, a womanhood with the place of national leadership in a time of great need of that leadership to pull the nation out of the degradation and shame to which its sin had brought it. So Deborah ranks with Gideon, Jephtha and Samson among the outstanding leaders of those three troublous centuries between the death of Joshua and the establishment of the monarchy under the nation's first king. God's choice of this woman in a day when a woman's place of leadership was given slight consideration was a foreboding of that better day when all artificial and man-made discriminations would be done away and there would be "neither Jew nor Greek, neither bond nor free, neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus." It is true that woman's chief sphere is, always has been and ever must be, the home, but God's use of such as Deborah shows that he also expects woman's influence to reach out into the community, nation and world, to make these wider spheres safe morally, spiritually and otherwise for the children she rears in the home.

Deborah Enlists Co-operation

Deborah showed her wisdom as a leader in her ability to enlist the support and co-operation of such men as Barak, the fifth of the 13 Judges or dictators of this period. Him she inspired to enlist an army of 10,000 soldiers from the two small northern tribes of Naphtali and Zebulun. ### Mortgage For Over Million Recorded At Court House

One of the largest mortgages ever filed at the Lawrence county court house was placed on record by Register and Recorder, Jeannette Hutton today. The mortgage, which is for $1,100,000 is given by The Sisters of the Third Order of St. Francis of the diocese of Pittsburgh to the Union Trust Company of Pittsburgh. It covers properties in Pittsburgh, Allegheny county and property in New Castle on South Mercer street. The mortgage is payable in installments of not less than $27,500 on the first of May and the first of November each year, together with interest on unpaid balances at the rate of 5 1/2 per cent, until May 1939, when the balance becomes due on the first of May 1940.

Connecticut Has Model Prison For Women Felons

(International News Service)

EAST LYME, Conn., July 25.—From facing the blank walls that stood a few feet from the barred openings of their cells, some thirty women prisoners of the state of Connecticut were suddenly transported, in late June, to a rural spot, in the southeastern district of the state where they now look from quarters like college dormitory rooms over a blossoming countryside, backing a lake.

The move represents the climax of Connecticut's effort to furnish better quarters for women who have fallen from conflict with the law. The new women's prison, is a single new unit added to the State farm for women here, where minor offenders are sent in an effort toward reform. The thirty women were moved by motor bus from the old pile on the edge of the Connecticut river where the state prison has been located for more than a century.

In the group moved were three prisoners who once stood in the shadow of the gallows, whose death sentences were commuted to life imprisonment by the board of pardons. One, Bessie Wakefield, whose sentence to death swept the country and brought a deluge of requests for clemency upon Governor Simon E. Baldwin, had not been outside the prison walls at Wethersfield since the day she was taken there in 1911. She had been convicted of helping kill her husband, and her paramour was hanged for the crime.

Outwardly there are no prison signs about the new quarters for women prisoners which are contained in what from a distance appears to be one of the Colonial-type homes that dot the hills along the shore of Long Island sound. Only on the rear of the structure, a long two-story brick building with a wing, are the windows barred, and these can be noted only after a close approach to the building.

Every inmate of the new building has a room of her own, with bed, chair and dresser, and a separate lavatory. The resemblance to a college dormitory is striking. The women will ever be permitted to decorate the walls of their rooms. Each room has a window sharing in the wide-spread scene to the north among the hills that run down to the Connecticut river. Near the building is the spreading pool of Bride Brook, a historic stream, that, as it nears Long Island Sound, less than a mile away, forms a tidal pool.

Connecticut spent about $135,000 on the new building without the equipment. Beside the dormitory rooms are a sewing room, laundry, kitchen, dining hall and recreation room. Within the building reside the over-seers, both men and women, who are established in quarters that are located with a strategic intent, giving which to live, nor have they even had such advantages as now they are given.

Denver Residents For Denver Work

(International News Service)

DENVER, July 25.—Construction companies awarded municipal contracts must employ only qualified Denver voters in the future in accordance with an ultimatum handed them by the city council.

The order came as a result of a flood of complaints on the part of voters against the extremely large number of out-of-town artisans who were imported for city work.

The order provides, however, that if labor of a special kind cannot be obtained in Denver, the contractors may be permitted to employ a non-resident.

OVER SIXTY WELL BABIES ATTEND CLINIC

Sixty-four little blondes, brunettes and red heads were examined on Thursday by Dr. William Wallace, with county and state nurses assisting. Most of the sixty-four have not yet seen one candle on their birthday cakes. The plump and healthy babies received their regular weekly inspection at the Well Baby Clinic in the New Castle Dry Goods Building. The clinic is conducted every Thursday morning between the hours of 10:00 and 12:00.

Old Timer Makes Phonograph Fiddle

Henry Bryson Constructs New Instrument; Hopes To Receive Patent

Henry Bryson local old timer of Croton avenue, Lawrence County old timer fiddler, musician, composer, and musical instrument manufacturer has in his possession what he calls a phonograph fiddle which he constructed recently. He hopes to receive a patent on the fiddle and place it on the market.

Here's how he made it. He found an old wooden block and through the aid of a pen knife constructed the body of an ordinary violin. The only difference is that he built the body with a hole in the center. He then constructed a violin neck. Then he got a producer from an old phonograph and placed it in where the bridge of a violin belongs. He then placed strings in his new device. The next thing done was to play the new invention with a violin bow.

Although the writer did not hear the new invention in action he was told that the fiddle plays much louder than an ordinary violin. There is one thing that is holding the local old timer from receiving a patent. Mr. Bryson stated that the secret in the new fiddle is to carry the tone from the bridge to the producer. As soon as he completes this the way he wants he stated that he will send the invention to Washington and attempt to receive a patent.

Use It In Band

When it is completed he said that the fiddle can be used in a brass band due to the fact that it makes more noise than an ordinary violin. It took Mr. Bryson several days to complete the device. He claims it still needs repairing. The invention if it works to Mr. Bryson's theory will be among the best. The device looks awkward but the old timer used an example by saying that the first airplane also looked awkward.

Mr. Bryson who is 60 years of age could be termed a man who is a versatile genius. Some of the things he can do include read music, play a harp, play a mandolin, make different musical instruments, repair instruments, and play a fiddle. His superiority over other old timers of this county in playing the fiddle was demonstrated several years ago when he won the Old Timers Fiddle Cup of Lawrence County. Mr. Bryson can also sing many old time numbers.

This local old timer could also be termed a collector of rare things. In his possession he has two rather old books. One is an English Grammar published in 1814. This was found in an old cabin in New Bedford some 55 or 60 years ago. The book gives lessons in orthography, etymology, syntax, prosody, and several other old time subjects. Another old book to his collection is a music book some 200 years old.

The book was published sometime during the time of George Washington. The book teaches one how to play the flute. Another odd possession which belongs to Mr. Bryson is an old penknife some 175 years old which has passed into the hands of four generations of the Bryson family. He is the fourth grandfather of the Bryson family to have the penknife. It came from Glasgow, Scotland, where it was made. It has a buckhorn handle.

Fort Hoyle C. M. T. C. Enter Final Phases Of Their Training

Parents' Day To Be Held Saturday; Battalions Practice

FORT HOYLE, Md., July 25.—The citizen soldiers of the Field Artillery C. M. T. C. at Fort Hoyle, Md., enter upon the final phases of their training this week when they go on the range with the French 75's for practice with service ammunition. The second battalion does its firing today, and the First Battalion on Friday.

During service practice each trainee performs the duties for which his degree of training suits him. The "Reds", or second year men, compose the gun squads, the "Whites", or third year men, act as section chiefs and other non-commissioned officer posts, while the "Blues", or fourth year men, act as officers and direct the firing. The "Blues", if they successfully complete the course, will be eligible for commission as second lieutenants of field artillery in the Officers Reserve Corps, United States Army.

With the arduous duties incident upon the final phases of camp there are two days of recreation inserted, however. Tomorrow will be devoted entirely to a track meet with inter-battalion competition. Various medals and trophies are offered and the competition is keen.

Saturday is officially designated as Parents' Day, at which time the schedule of camp is arranged so that the young men will be able to spend a maximum amount of time with parents or other visitors who may come to see them.

Woman Bequeaths Yale Four Million; Gift Unexpected

(International News Service) NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 25.—From a quiet little woman who seemed interested only in the affairs of her quaint village in the foothills of the Berkshires has come to Yale university a sum that will probably reach the four million dollar mark.

Mary Hawley of Newton has been making the village an object of her affections for years, giving it a splendid endowed high school, and a town hall that few places of even larger size could boast, and turning the village cemetery into a park of great beauty. These things she did in memory of her parents and grandparents. She lived quietly in an attractive but modest home from which she did much charitable work.

When Miss Hawley died, her will was found to distribute funds to hospitals and churches in Fairfield county, to relatives and to the three or four servants who had been with her many years. She provided endowments for structures she had built in her life-time, and she assigned money for various projects that had been started in recent years at her behest. The residue of the estate, then of uncertain size, was to go to Yale to aid students—not to erect buildings.

The inventory of Miss Hawley's estate was filed in Newton this summer, and for the first time the public had an idea of how much she was worth. The inventory was of recent date, naturally, and it indicated that before the market crash the estate would have been huge. As it was Miss Hawley left a total of over $5,700,000, nearly all in high-grade securities, the rest in real estate and cash. Figuring things down, it has developed Yale will come into just over four millions when the estate is settled and bequests are paid.

Mayor Heffernan Denies Capone Is Getting "Cut-In"

(International News Service) YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 25.—Reports that Al Capone, reputed Chicago racketeer, has a cut-in on race betting "bookie" business here are without verification, Mayor Joseph L. Heffernan declared Thursday.

Mayor Heffernan characterized the reports as "absolutely unfounded," and attributed their origin to his intensive campaign here against racketeering and vice.

The reports stated that investigation revealed that Capone was connected with the operations of "bookie" establishments in Youngstown.

Joseph Stadfeld, Jr. Dies Of Injuries

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, July 25.—Joseph Stadfeld, Jr., 30, son of Judge Joseph Stadfeld of common pleas court, died in St. Francis hospital here today following injuries received in an automobile accident last Friday.

Stadfeld was driving along Bigelow boulevard with Jane Day, 26, of Charleroi, when his car struck a low retaining wall near Craig street and upset about 3 a. m.

Miss Day's condition was reported today as still serious. Stadfeld's mother was reported on her way home from Europe where she is said to have gone to attend the Passion play.

Restless Children

Children will fret, often for no apparent reason. But there's always one sure way to comfort a restless, fretful child. Castoria! Harmless as the recipe on the wrapper; mild and bland as it tastes. But its gentle action soothes a youngster more surely than some powerful medicine that is meant for the stronger systems of adults.

That's the beauty of this special children's remedy! It may be given the tiniest infant—as often as there is any need. In cases of colic, diarrhea, or similar disturbance, it is invaluable. But it has everyday uses all mothers should understand. A coated tongue calls for a few drops to ward off constipation; so does any suggestion of bad breath. Whenever children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset—this pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed to set everything to rights. Genuine Castoria has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper. Doctors prescribe it.

BREAD FOR THE CHILD

THE growing child, with his incessant activity, needs a generous proportion of energy-supplying foods. Bread contains a large amount of starch and protein which when utilized in the body provides this energy. It is easily digested and almost completely assimilated by the body. The child's hunger is satisfied by a food which he likes.

Bread occupies an important place in the diet of the normal individual, and properly baked bread made with milk is a wholesome, nutritious and inexpensive food.

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD

Rosetta: If young girls will come to me, I will permit it, you better find a place to stay through the Traveler's Aid society which is represented at railroad stations, or through the Young Women's Christian association. Write them first and get information. Address, New York. They will get it.

Mrs. C. No you can't stop neighbors from gossiping. The only thing to do is move, and get new neighbors. Why not try ignoring them?

Mrs. P. Waco, Texas, writes to encourage the girl who can't forget the fiance who jilted her for her best friend. The same thing happened to her and she went out of the city and worked hard to forget him. She met the right one later and married. Recently she met the old flame and wondered how on earth she ever could care for such a dud. That's the way it usually turns out, so don't get desperate over any man.

Mary Alice wants to know how to lead a man without chasing him.

Of course you can't lead one that is going the other way as fast as he can. He must be willing. But if he is interested you can be agreeable without hanging to him every minute. By chasing, I mean asking him to come and see you every night and putting if he doesn't come, always phoning him when he is busy and showing jealousy when you haven't any strings on the man. Your instinct should tell you when you are making a fool of yourself in a case like that, and if it doesn't I sometimes think it's a waste of time for anyone else to tell you.

Boston Constant Reader: There are states in which you can get a divorce even if the cruelty was perpetrated in some other state. If that were not true plenty of men would have to go to Reno to mistreat their wives wouldn't they? Or to Paris, or to Mexico. The reasons for divorce vary in different states. In New York one must be unfaithful but if you were mistreated in Chicago you can go back there and get a divorce. Consult an attorney as to the laws of your state.

Pancy this! A woman writes that she wants to leave her husband but can't because he has the bank account. She says "I should have married the other fellow, then I'd have a home and not have to work."

Pope Pius Lends Aid To Victims Of Italian Quake

(International News Service) VATICAN CITY, July 25. — Pope Pius XI, took steps Thursday to aid victims of the Italian earthquake. His holiness dispatched a special emissary to the stricken zone to aid in the relief work. The historic order of the Knights of Malta set about preparing a relief train to start from Rome shortly, taking medicinal and food supplies into the devastated area.

The pope suspended all public audiences because of the catastrophe. It is understood he also will dispense with his summer vacation, remaining at the Vatican.

Private audiences will be continued.

Dr. Mildred Rogers With Business Women Will Tour Europe

Business Women Set Sail August 1 On S. S. Olympic For Good Will Tour

DR. MILDRED ROGERS

The Third Good Will Tour of the Business and Professional Women of the United States will begin August 1, when a group of representative women from the United States set sail from New York on the S. S. Olympic of the White Star Line to tour various countries of Europe as Ambassadors of Good Will.

Dr. Mildred Rogers, of this city, who is president of the state Federation of the Business and Professional women, will represent New Castle on the tour. The tour is under the leadership of Lena Madsen Phillips and Geline MacDonald Bowman, and the direction on Mary C. Kennedy.

The group will visit in London, Paris, Brussels, Coblenz, Munich, Oberammergau, Lucerne and Geneva, with a steamer trip up the Rhine River while in Germany.

Object of Trip

To unite the business and professional women of our country in mutual usefulness and for individual achievement and to use the resultant influence for good has ever been the purpose of the National Federation and since in this they have been reasonably successful, it is but natural that they seek to share and increase the accomplishment by securing like cooperation among the women gainfully employed in all lands.

To this end, the Ambassadors of Good Will have visited many countries and always they have found rich reward in an appreciative reception and in the development of warm international friendships.

That their efforts may flower into a more permanent beauty is the purpose of the Geneva meetings, where on August 24, 25 and 26 the business women of the various countries will meet in conference.

Here women of many lands may fashion better ways of meeting old problems and links will be forged to unite the business women of the world in a chain of strength and service.

M. I. T. FOUNDS ARCHITECTURAL AWARD OF $500

(International News Service)
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 25—A graduate scholarship for study of architecture in the United States has been established in the Department of Architecture of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, the first recipient of which was Frederick A. Pawley of New York, who is undertaking an architectural study of the drama theatre in this country.

The scholarship, which carries a stipend of $500 for three months travel to be awarded annually to a student who is a graduate of the department and who shall be selected on the basis of general excellence of work, was established by Mrs. Horatio A. Lamb of Boston, a sister of the later Arthur Rotch who founded the Rotch prizes in architecture. A committee of which Professor William Emerson, head of the department is chairman, will outline the work to be undertaken under the scholarship and guide the student in his work.

In announcing the scholarship, Professor Emerson expressed the belief that America, both in its old and new architectural work, offers excellent opportunities for studies of this nature. A student from the middle or northwestern part of the country, he explained, might for example find it a great advantage to make a study of Colonial or other architectural influence prevailing in New England, Virginia or South Carolina.

The value of a study of the work in the past ten years of any one of the distinguished architectural firms of the country to trace the development of their style on meeting modern tendencies, was also cited as a desirable study.

WELLAND CANAL
TO BE DEDICATED
SEPTEMBER FIRST

(International News Service)
ST. CATHERINE, Ont., July 25.—The new Welland ship canal, the "Panama Canal" of Canada, which will have cost $122,000,000 when it is completed and which is the huge ship conveyor around Niagara Falls, will be formally dedicated September 1.

More than 100 workers have been killed in accidents as a result of the construction. The worst tragedy occurred when a gate, which weighed 500 tons, broke loose from a derrick and dropped into a group of workers. Ten men, who were caught directly beneath it, were flattened out like so many sheets of paper. Scores were injured.

Work on the artery of international trade has been underway for approximately 16 years. The project will replace the old Welland Canal, which can accommodate only the smaller boats. It will be able to float the largest boat on the Great Lakes for a "detour" around the raging Niagara.

Engineers compare it to the Panama Canal and other proponents of it say that it is as economically important.

One of its outstanding features is the system of seven great locks which overcome the difference between the levels of Lake Erie and Lake Ontario, which it connects. The locks measure 46 feet each.

Most of the major work on the project, construction of which was almost completely stopped by the World War, has been completed. Only a few "finishing touches" are needed.

Impressive ceremonies are being planned for the opening. Prominent figures in both the United States and Great Britain will be invited to attend and all of the Great Lakes cities and states are expected to send delegations to the event, which will mark the greatest step of progress in the history of the five huge inland bodies of water.

17. The Puritans—Anne Hutchinson

SCARCELY HAD ROGER WILLIAMS LEFT THAN ANOTHER RELIGIOUS CONTROVERSY AROSE IN MASSACHUSETTS, THE STORM CENTER OF WHICH WAS MRS. ANNE HUTCHINSON, A CULTURED LADY, WHO HAD FORMED A WOMEN'S CLUB FOR THE DISCUSSION OF SERMONS PREACHED IN BOSTON.

MRS. HUTCHINSON BOLDLY CRITICIZED THE PURITAN MINISTERS, ACCUSING THEM OF THINKING MORE OF "WORKS,"—OUTWARD WORSHIP,—THAN OF FAITH.

(Copyright, 1920, by J. Carroll Mansfield)

SHE GAINED A LARGE FOLLOWING. HER CREED OF "FAITH" ATTRACTED A NUMBER OF PROMINENT MEN, AMONG THEM YOUNG HENRY VANE, WHO WAS THEN GOVERNOR. THE PURITAN CLERGY GREW ALARMED.

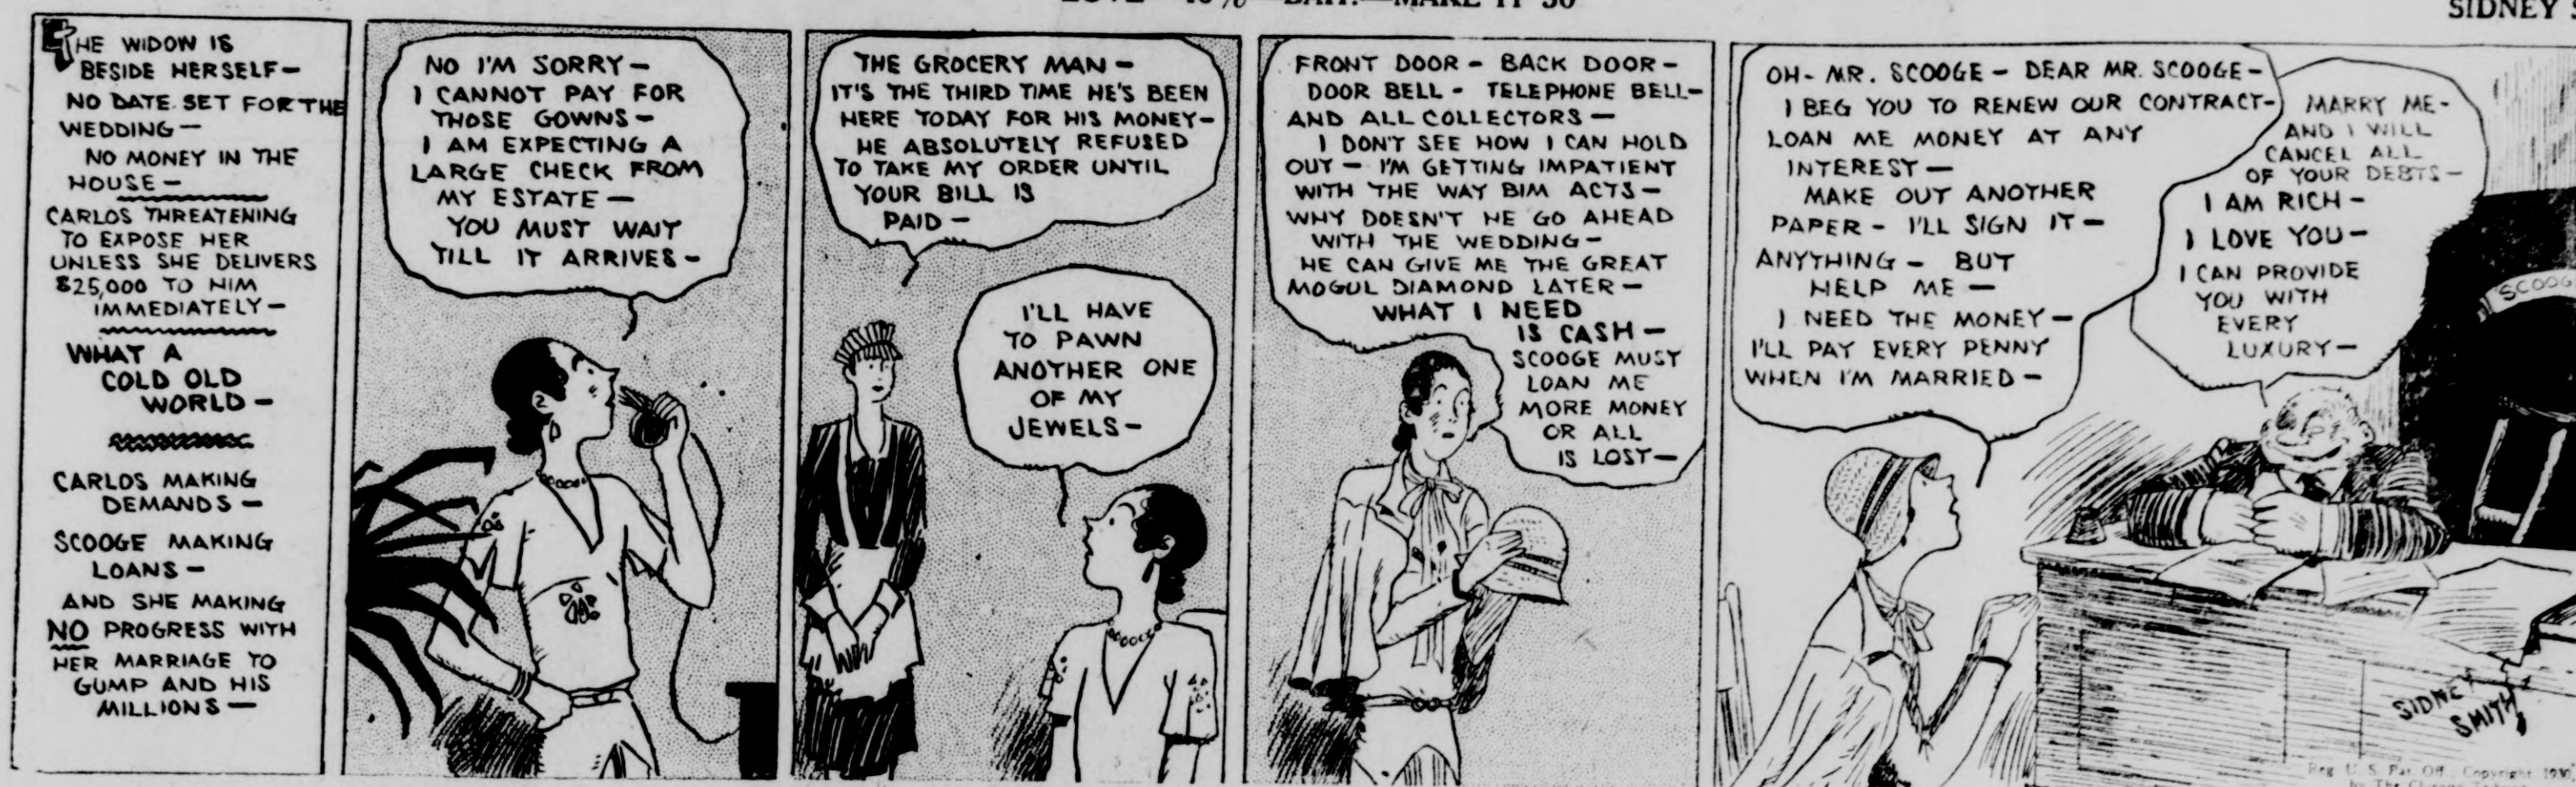

SOON THE COLONISTS SPLIT INTO "FAITH" AND "WORKS" FACTIONS. MRS. HUTCHINSON'S TEACHINGS BECAME A POLITICAL ISSUE IN AN ELECTION FOR GOVERNOR. WINTHROP AND THE CHURCH PARTY TRIUMPHED OVER THE HUTCHINSON CANDIDATE.

Primo Carnera Will Stay While Longer

Immigration Officials Give Carnera Twenty-Day Extension To Time Limit

Believe That Man Mountain Of Italy Will Be With Us For Another Year

By HYPE IGONE
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 25.—Primo Carnera will be with us twenty more days at least and everything points to his being one of us for the extra six months he craves to remain.

Indeed, a little birdie tells me that the "fellers" down Washington way, the same "fellers" that Tex Rickard loved to talk about, and count as his friends, are going to stretch little Primo's request for six months additional stay in this country to one year, in which time he will fight Schmeling for the world's title in Jersey City.

When I see Bootsie going up the gangplank, being shoved along by the boys in blue and brass buttons, I'll believe he has actually got the bum's rush, not until then for those feet of his still are firmly planted on good old U. S. terra firma.

Granted Twenty Days.
There is more than a suspicion that the officials concerned in the chasing Primo home, went off half cocked and may not be able to make orders stand up.

In any case, Primo has been granted that twenty-day stay, asked for by Bill Duffy, major domo of the Carnera crew.

Congressman Robert Clancy of Michigan, made a special trip to Washington yesterday to see that Duffy got that much grace in heading off deportation proceedings.

To prove that Carnera or his managers are not worrying much about Primo being tossed across the Atlantic, Bootsie went through a hard day's training at Stillman's gymnasium.

He has a fight on in Chicago and plans have been under way for several months to have Carnera meet one of the best men in the world in the Atlantic City auditorium for the benefit of the ice and coal fund, one of the great charities for the poor of that haven of rest and fun. Contracts for both of these bouts have been signed. Strubing, Campolo or Sharkey can take up the burden.

Carnera will meet Schmeling for the world's title in the Jersey City arena next year. Johnny Malone, a close friend of Duffy's, is to promote the bout, aided by Herman Taylor and Bobby Gunn, of Philadelphia, the two who brought Carnera and Godfrey together in Quakertown.

May Face Schmeling.
All that has been settled. Schmeling knows that the match has been in the making, and is ready to face the Giant Italian.

And this isn't the only iron that Duffy will have in the fire. He is to get backing from a number of business men who want to build for him an arena in New York seating from 30,000 to 35,000 persons. All being done, mind you, with the thought that Carnera will be champion sooner or later.

United States senators, congressmen and powerful other influences are coming to Duffy's aid in blocking the forces that say Lil' Primo must go right straight home.

Senators and congressmen who come from Italian districts want to see Primo remain where he is while the remaining is good—so good.

Like McFowler is blamed for the poor bout at Millvale last night when he faced Frankie Wine. It went the limit but he held on and made the bout bad. There wasn't a good blow struck, according to reports.

Tip Richards will go to school again this fall, it was learned yesterday. Tippy will enter Duquesne. Right now Tip is managing the Scarazzo coal baseball team which has won four consecutive games.

George Trainor Is Medalist At N. C. Field Club

George Trainor Turns In 154 Card For Qualifying Round Of Club Championship

George Trainor is the medalist at the field club in the qualifying round for the club championship. Playing against William (Bill) Nunn the other day, young Trainor turned in a card of 77 for the first 18 holes and duplicated his feat of 77 on the final 18 holes. Nunn was beaten one stroke for the medalist honors, turning in a 77 and 78.

Young Bill Long is expected to give the field club golfers some competition this year if his playing in the junior championship tourney is a criterion.

Tennis Players In Second Round Of Tourney Play

New Castle Tennis And Racquet Club Staging Fine Tournament

First round of the New Castle Tennis and Racquet Club inter-member tournament was completed yesterday with the exception of the DeCarbo-Walther match which will be played today at 4:30. Two matches of the second round were also completed.

Walter Hemple proved the master over Eugene Morelli in three sets. Having dropped the first set on the previous day, 4-6, Hemple came back strong to eliminate Morelli in the next two sets, 6-4; 6-4.

In the meantime, the second round was started. Mike Morelli came through with a surprise victory over Dewey Casimiri in the first match. Dropping the first frame 1-6, Morelli came through strong to capture the last two sets, 6-2 and 6-3.

Fred Fabian and Walter Hemple played the second match of the second round in the afternoon. Although Of Sol radiated strong heat waves, Fred and Walter never faltered and finished the match in great fashion. The scores, 6-1; 6-1.

Mike Cassella and William Bullano opened the evening tussles. In this skirmish, old age had a tough time in defeating youth. Cassella belongs to the "old timers," having played tennis when Young Bullano was spending time in the cradle. Incidentally, Cassella was using a racquet eighteen years old; Young Bullano's senior by three years. The scores of the Cassella-Bullano ended in three sets, 6-2; 3-6; 6-1.

The second round was resumed at nine o'clock this morning. Gerald Zieve will tangle with Francis De-Sanctis. Mike Cassella will play out with Patsy Diana in the second match of the day. Peter P. Mele drew a bye for the second round.

Mike Morelli and Peter P. Mele will start the third round at one o'clock this afternoon. The other players to enter the third round was Fred Fabian.

Tennis and matrimony form a triumphant double team. This is the opinion of Eileen Bennett, famous English tennis star, who feels that it is about time that someone utters a few words in defense of the married woman athlete. And since Eileen herself became Mrs. Edmund Fearnley-Whittingstall last November, she feels that she is entitled to point not only to herself but to the many married women who took part in the recent tennis championships and who found that Wimbledon and wedlock were highly compatible. For in this year's women's singles at Wimbledon, thirty-four of the ninety-six entries were married, and of the thirty-two who reached the third round, eleven were married, and in the final sixteen, as many as seven were designated as "Mrs." and all of them were proud of it. And it is necessary to point out that the greatest player of them all, the woman who emerged triumphant from what proved to be one of the finest semi-finals ever contested was none other than Mrs. Helen Willis Moody who feels that it "would not look quite right to use my full name," and who in fact would rather be known as just Mrs. Moody.

Noted Court Star Strikes Back at Critics of Married Women Tennis Champs

Eileen Bennett Points to Married Women Who Excelled at Wimbledon as Evidence That Wedded Bliss and Athletics Harmonize.

There are many other married women tennis champions to uphold the statements of Eileen Bennett anent tennis and matrimony. Mrs. Molla Mallory, Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, who last year staged a brilliant comeback; Mrs. Kitty McKane Godfree, regarded as one of the world's greatest players, and Eileen Bennett herself, who gave a brilliant performance at Wimbledon this year.

In Perfect Harmony
Although Helen Willis Moody confided that she was terribly homesick for home and hubby, she did not allow her personal feelings to interfere with her announced intention of upholding the honor and glory of her country on the tennis courts. And veterans at Wimbledon say that they have never seen finer playing than that of the fair Helen from the first game right up to the finals in the meeting that marked her debut as a married woman player. And best of all, the husbands of the lady tennis champions are one and all in complete sympathy with the achievements of their mates in the field of athletics. And so as matrimony does not seem to interfere with tennis, neither does tennis seem to harm or interfere with matrimony, according to the consensus of opinion of not only the players themselves, but of their husbands, who after all should be the best judges of the matter.

Spying On Sports

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Sports Editor.

There's no doubt about it now. Italy must be on verge of war. Mussolini has called into service an entire army corps thinly disguised as Primo Carnera.

What earthly use the Vast Venetian will be to the military forces of Italy is to be used as a model from which the Duke will build a new fleet of dirigibles. Or, maybe, in the event of attack, Private Primo will be laid lengthwise on the front. Behind such a barricade Rome could withstand a month's savage siege.

How Italy will be able to support Private Primo in his year of draft service is something for a corps of Fascist quartermasters to worry about. The manner in which Carnera can destroy a tub of spaghetti garnished with hams is one of the wonders of the 20th century. The thought that army life may give Private Primo an extra hearty appetite causes one to shudder for the economic future of Carnera's fatherland.

Out of King a Year.
Clothing Carnera is another problem but more easily solved. A second-hand circus tent, in fairly good condition, would do. A greater worry would be to successfully camouflage Private Primo. If he ever pokes his frame out of a trench he will be in plain view of every sniper along the entire front. More important than all this—from the sport angle—is the fact that Carnera will not be available for any fighting (except the machine gun and bayonet kind) for a whole year. Opinion differs as to whether this is a loss or a distinct boon to the fight business over here.

It must be admitted that, while some of the bouts Carnera engaged in over here were strange affairs, to say the least, the fellow was learning to fight. Primo was at last being taken more or less seriously by the fighting fraternity when his call to the colors came. It is quite possible that within another 12 months he may have worked himself into a bout for the heavyweight title.

Whether or not Carnera will be able to pick up the thread of his fight career 12 months from now and go on up the ladder depends on the man. We cannot agree with those who insist that a year of army life of a necessity ruins a boxer. If he is in capable hands the training may do Primo a great deal of good.

It must be remembered that at least one or two American pugilists have spent considerable time in the calaboose (quaint mid-western slang for the big house) during which time they breathed the stale air of prison life, received very little beneficial exercise and were supposed to be broken in spirit by their entored stay indoors. Yet, statistics show that some of these unnamed gentlemen came out of the jug as good battlers as they were when they went in. The Italian army is certainly a healthier and happier spot than cell 1426, tier three.

Anyhow, Signor Mussolini, go take your Primo if you want him. Now that folks are beginning to regard him seriously he is no longer amusing.

"Bill" Long In Semi-Finals Of Golf Tournament

New Castle Boy Fights Way To Semi-Finals For Junior Western Penna Title

William "Bill" Long, popular young New Castle Field Club golfer will carry the banner of his home town, New Castle, into the semi-finals of the Western Pennsylvania Junior Golf Tournament this afternoon. The title course is Westmoreland Country Club. Long has been shooting some fine golf to reach the semi-final bracket.

Yesterday Long defeated R. B. Parker in an extra-hole match and turned around in the afternoon to beat John Totten of Stanton Heights Country Club 2 and 1. John Totten earlier in the day had turned his brother's chance for victory.

The New Castle boy in his match with Totten scored a 39 in the first nine holes and had a fine score in the second nine-holes but play halted at the eighth hole, he had 33 when the match terminated, and would probably have had a 37 or 38 for the second round. Totten shot a 41 in the out round and had 34 on the in nine.

Today Long is paired with Regis Wolff, of Highland Country Club and the medalist Wilson Marks of Kiski. Long is paired with Tom Vantaky of Titusville a "darkhorse" in the turney.

Wolff is the young 17 year old sensational Highland golfer and will meet his match when he tries to out-play the New Castle boy.

The many friends of the New Castle youngster are pulling for him to come through today with a victory and play for the title. This is the first year of competition for the local junior golfer.

Brooklyn Keeps Out In Front

Dodgers Beat Reds 9 To 0 In Abbreviated Game To Keep League Lead

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 25.—In one of his plays old Bill Shakespeare has a character climb on a garden wall to shout "The Prince of Darkness is a gentleman" and now heartily the Brooklyn Robins agreed today. For by striking out on purpose to hurry along the innings as black rain clouds storm brought artificial evening, the flock managed to have their night cap tilt with the Reds called in the fifth inning, winning 9 to 0 to keep the league lead over the Cubs by a cigarette paper margin.

The great Dazzy Vance himself ascended in the opening of the first game and superb relief hurling by Ash, who replaced Campbell finally won for the Reds, 4 to 3. With the sacks filled Ash fanned flowers in the ninth and made Frederick fly out, ending the Robins rally.

With three men on base and one out this same prime of the night decided things in the New York-Pirates game, ending the contest in the seventh inning, 1 to 0 in the Giants' favor. Carl Hubbell greeted the darkness and rain with a smile, for he marked up a one hit victory.

Roy Sherid's pitching and homer No. 36 by Mr. Ruth wrote a Yankee triumph over Detroit, 5 to 2.

Each team making 17 hits the Cubs won one of these modern lively-ball slugfests from the Phils, 19 to 15. Cuyler got four hits.

Jimmy Foxx whanged his twenty seventh four-baser in the ninth inning with one on and the score tied to snare the game from the Cleveland Indians, 8 to 6.

Although he gave 13 hits, Ted Lyons was lucky and chalked his fifteenth win of the year as the White Sox skelled the sliding Senators 10 to 4. Reynolds of the Hose got four bingle-bangles.

Chick Hafey hit two homers, a double and a single but the rest of his teammates were thinking of something else and Boston lowered the Cardinals 5 to 4. Smith was the winning hurler.

Earl Webb registered a circuiter, a double and two singles and won for the Ruddy Sox of Boston over the Brownies, 8 to 5.

WOMEN FIND USE FOR NEW ALL-DAY ENSEMBLES

By ALICE LANGELEIR
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, July 25.—The all-day ensemble is undoubtedly the most necessary article in every woman's wardrobe these busy days.

What to wear if one has a fitting at the dressmakers, after that a luncheon party, a drive in the Bois, afternoon tea and a cocktail party, with not a moment for a change between-times? The well-chosen ensemble with every accessory to match or harmonize is the correct answer, according to the chic designer.

Strikingly new is alpaca, a summer rival to the popular chiffon tweed, at once a revival and yet a novelty. Light-weight, cool and yet very smart when fashioned in a tailored all-day ensemble, this old-new fabric is nothing if not serviceable. A black and white spotted model has a novel sun-ray front design in white to match the blouse beneath the jacket which itself has a narrow collar of white.

Semi-fitting, but conveying a definite waistline suggestion, the jacket is bordered with black fox.

Fine wool voile is used for many new daytime ensembles in quiet shades of lime-green, grape-green and cerise. Madeleine combines unusual materials for a daytime ensemble with caped coat in three-quarter length of black Madryana and broderie anglaise making the dress in siamais color, the lower shaped flounce matching the coat.

Practically every material comes for this costume. Attention to cut, line and accessories will make it what it should be.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., July 25.—Perpetuating the memory of a Nez Perce Indian chief, whose kindly deed saved Governor Isaac Stevens and his small force of soldiers from annihilation at the hands of hostile Cayuse Indians 75 years ago, a bronze plaque describing his act has been fastened to a seventeen ton granite boulder by the 1930 graduating class of Whitman college.

He was Hol-Lot-Sote-Tote to the Nez Perce and known to the whites as Chief Lawyer.

Dignitaries headed by Governor Poland H. Hartley with 3,000 spectators as Miss Mylie Lawyer, the chief's great-granddaughter, unveiled the monument.

The inscription reads: "Here were encamped from May 24 to June 12, 1855, 2,000 Indians of the Nez Perce tribe, with their famous chief, Hol-Lot-Sote-Tote, lawyer, attending the great council called by Governor Stevens. Discovering a plot of the other Indian tribes to kill the Americans, Chief Lawyer moved his lodge and family before dawn on June 3 to the white men's camp thereby protecting them from attack. The class of 1930 present this tablet in honor of Chief Lawyer, the wise, magnanimous and brave leader of a noble people."

While scores of Indians from the Northwest tribes, some dressed in their ancient costumes, stood in staid array, Corbett Lawyer, grandson of the famous chief acknowledged the honor.

"We are the Nez Perces upon whose hands there has never been white man's blood," Lawyer said. "We have been friends for ages and this friendship will endure forever. Our faith to the American government has never been broken and it never will be."

Governor Hartley accepted the monument in behalf of the state.

SORDS POINTS

College Grid Stars Shine In Minor Leagues This Season

KEN WAS FARMED OUT BY THE YANKEES BUT AT HIS PRESENT CLIP MAY SOON BE BACK IN THE MAJORS.

KEN STRONG
FORMER NEW YORK YANKEES GRID STAR, WHO IS BURNING UP THE NEW YORK-PENNSYLVANIA LEAGUE

JOEL HUNT TEXAS AGGIES, LARRY BETTENCOURT, ST. MARY'S AND TOM NASH, GEORGIA TECH ARE OTHER FORMER STARS OF THE GRIDIRON WHO ARE MAKING THEIR MARK IN BASEBALL

By JACK SORDS
Central Press Sports Cartoonist-Writer

This is a prosperous year in baseball for one-time idols of the gridiron. The minors this season have more players with college football experience than usual and many of these boys are playing good enough baseball to look like big league possibilities.

One of the outstanding ex-collegians is Ken Strong, former New York university football star. Strong who belongs to the New York Americans, may find himself in a Yankee uniform by next season if he keeps up the pace he has been going with Hazleton of the New York-Pennsylvania league.

At the last compilation of figures for the N. Y. P. league, Strong was leading the circuit in batting and slugging. His average was .418 and he had 24 homers, 11 triples and 17 doubles to his credit. He is an outfielder.

Tom Nash of Georgia Tech grid fame is doing himself a lot of good in the Sally league. He is playing a bang-up game at first for Asheville and hitting just under the 400 mark. The Texas league boasts two ex-gridriders who are shining lights today in Lone Star baseball. Joel Hunt, a sort of home boy as he hails from the Texas Aggies, is doing shortstop duty for Houston and may get the bid to move up to the Cardinals next season, the St. Louis club owning the Houston outfit. He hits .335.

Larry Bettencourt, the lad who did much to put St. Mary's of California on the map in his gridiron days there, is catching for Wichita Falls in the same circuit. He is the home-run king of the Lone-Star league and may gain another try in the majors, having had a brief stay with the St. Louis Browns.

Bessemer Loses To Energy, 5-4

Energy won a City-County league tilt from Bessemer 5 to 4 at Bessemer last night. It was one of the best games of the season. Energy scored three runs in the seventh the last frame and Bessemer came within an ace of tying the score as Bessemer made four runs which made the total score 5 to 4. Good hurling featured and Shoaff hit a home run.

New York Giants Defeat Pirates

Lindstrom's Homer In First Decides Game Called On Account Of Darkness

NEW YORK, July 25.—The Giants blanked the Pirates in a six inning game at the Polo grounds yesterday, 1 to 0. Darkness which followed a rain ended the game after the Pirates had filled the bases with only one run down in the first of the seventh.

Lindstrom's home run in the first inning decided the game. Pirates only got one hit off Hubbell while Kremer was touched up for seven. The box score:

You're the JUDGE
The Decision
The hotel man won.
The judges reasoned thus:
The liquor dealer here knew the intention of the hotel keeper to violate the laws of his state. Any contract which contemplates a design on the part of one of the parties to violate the law of another state is void. The liquor dealer, therefore, cannot expect the court to help him to recover anything on a contract that legally does not exist.

Scion of Napoleon
What great character in history does this little girl resemble? Napoleon! That's right. She is Colette Ribbit, said to be a great-grandchild of the Little Corporal. She was discovered in an obscure little village fifteen miles from Paris.

Scientist's Daughter Named for Queen
Marchesa Marconi, wife of the noted scientist, gave birth to a daughter at the Marconi Villa. Queen Helena of Italy will be godmother to the child, who will be named Maria Elettra Helena. The middle name is that of Marconi's aunt and the last name in honor of the Queen of Italy.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Market Today Is Dull-Irregular

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 25.—The stock market drifted through a dull and narrow forenoon period, with stock sales in the first half-hour only 191,000 shares. Prices of the speculative favorites moved through a narrow range, with gains and losses of a point more or less, evenly divided, in the active list. The market made no special response to the $17,000,000 decrease in broker's loans.

Call money was unchanged at 2 per cent.

Resuming their search for weak spots, the bears forced national cash register and U. S. Industrial alcohol to new lows on the move at 46 and 69 respectively. Autostrop was a strong feature, with a four point rise to the year's peak price at 78. Commodity markets were steady, with Cotton up a few points and Grain fractionally higher.

Plan Drive To Organize New Aviation Clubs

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 25.—In an endeavor to bring aviation training within the reach of the average working man and woman, the American Society for Promotion of Aviation will undertake an intensive campaign of organizing civilian clubs in every community throughout the country. Immediate work under the direction of skilled organizers of the society will start in New York City and vicinity and plans for a rapid expansion of the work throughout New England and eastern states have been made.

The work of the society is being supported by the manufacturers of light airplanes who realize that new markets must be created to absorb the surplus supply of airplanes that are being manufactured and which are accumulating daily in warehouses. Under the club plan sponsored by the society individuals will be encouraged to take up flying as a sport rather than as a profession and through group training instructions will be made available at one-third the cost of the prevailing rate.

"An unfortunate feature in the development of aviation in America," said Thomas L. Hill, president of the A. S. P. A., "is the fact that hundreds of thousands of young men and women who desire to become active flyers and in so doing would become potential purchasers of airplanes, have been unable to learn flying owing to the prohibitive cost. Aircraft manufacturers are now realizing that exceptional measures must be taken to get America and especially young America to the air as practical pilots. Extensive surveys made by the society have proven that the club plan is not only practical but has been instrumental in creating the sale of more airplanes than any other agency in aviation. I confidently expect that within a year the A. S. P. A. will successfully organize over 3,000 civilian flying clubs which should lead to the eventual purchase of over 15,000 light training airplanes within the next two years."

Kin-Folks' Day To Be Observed At Union Baptist

An unusual service will be held Sunday in the Union Baptist church when the congregation observes "Kin-Folks' Day."

Kin-folks, up to third cousins, will sit together and a special prize will be given to the heads of the largest group.

Prizes will be given to the mother and father of the largest family, also to the families having the largest number of boys, and the largest number of girls.

The Sunday morning sermon, "The Family Then and the Family Now" will be given by the pastor and at the evening service he will speak on "The Relation of the Family to the Church."

Receives Word Of Nephew's Death

Mrs. Jacob Klein, 939 Beckford street, received word Thursday evening of the death of her nephew, William Harris, who drowned Thursday while swimming in the Allegheny river at Beckenridge. No details have been received as to what happened.

Funeral services for the young man, who was 21 years of age, will be held Sunday afternoon from the family home at Mrs. F. A. Klein, where the body has been brought.

ONE-MAN SPEED TRAP READY
A one-man speed trap for reckless motorists has been invented by a police inspector at The Hague, in collaboration with the director of the State Marine Institute at Leiden, and is ready for the market. The new instrument resembles a single opera-glass with a circular base from which certain finger stops protrude. As the speeding car approaches, the traffic officer focuses his glass on it and starts a stop watch contained in the instrument. Afterwards he gets the time from the watch and by referring to a chart can ascertain the speed of the car.

Man In Parked Car Is Found Shot To Death—Twelfth Murder In Three Weeks

(International News Service)
DETROIT, Mich., July 25.—Another murder, the twelfth in three weeks of gang war, enlivened the wholesale cleanup campaign here today when a man known only as Jack Brown was shot to death shortly after midnight as he sat in an automobile on Fourth avenue.

Brown, who was about 30 years old, apparently had been shot by a companion who was seated behind the steering wheel of the death car.

Witnesses told police they saw a man flee from the automobile after the fusillade of shots was heard. Ownership of the automobile was traced to Evelyn Littlefield, police declared.
